Smuggled Letter Charges Brutality In Alcatraz

PRISONERS TRY SUICIDE REPORT SAYS

Warden Johnston Characterizes Reported Charges Absolute Lie

(Copyright 1935, by United Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—(UP)—A letter smuggled from Alcatraz federal prison in San Francisco bay, and published today by the San Francisco News, declared that "brutality" in the prison has driven three prisoners insane and caused four others to attempt suicide.

The letter said that Edgar (Whitey) Lewis, 28, postoffice robber and figure in three attempts to escape from federal custody has been driven hopelessly insane after being kept in a dungeon for six weeks, starved, shot in the face with a gas gun and beaten over the head with clubs by three guards.

Joseph Bowers and James Grove are two other convicts to suffer mental breakdowns, the letter said. John M. Stadig, college graduate and counterfeiter, who once escaped from federal officers by diving through a train window, was named as one who attempted suicide.

"In the name of God, do something," the letter said.

Warden Replies

The News said Warden James A. Johnston characterized the brutality charge as "an absolute lie," explaining that prison rules prevented him from answering charges of insanity and attempted suicide in the prison. He also cannot comment on individual cases, the warden said.

"The cry of brutality is a convict's time-worn means of turning on the heat on a prison," the warden said. "It is to be expected from Alcatraz prisoners who, under the very purpose of the prison, are under the strictest discipline of any American penitentiary. Alcatraz has a psychiatrist provided by the United States public health service, in addition to two medical doctors and four attendants, to check up not only on outward insanity but to keep constant

JURY IN SWINDLE CASE DISCHARGED

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(UP)—The government's second attempt to convict James C. McKay and William Graham, Reno, Nev., gamblers, as directors of an international swindle ring, failed today when a federal court jury, after 52 hours' deliberation, reported it was deadlocked and was discharged.

The jury received the case at 11 a. m. Wednesday after a week of testimony in which the government contended members of the alleged swindle ring lured "suckers" to Reno when Graham and McKay, through fake stock market and other dodges, stripped them of their life savings.

The jury reportedly stood seven to five for conviction.

COUNTY W.C.T.U. RE-ELECTS ALL OFFICERS IN SESSION OF COUNTY CONVENTION TODAY

Officers of the W. C. T. U. were all re-elected at this morning's session of the county convention being held in the First Methodist church. Mrs. Lola Grimm will continue as president with her executive board including Mrs. Oneta Pike, first vice-president; Mrs. Cora Hale, second vice-president; Mrs. Sarah Brown, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Elizabeth Warren, recording secretary; Mrs. Edith Moore, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. Alma J. Kellogg, treasurer; Mrs. Edna Leonard, assistant treasurer.

Appointment of directors for various activities will be completed at the concluding meeting this afternoon.

California's need of salvation from a liquor traffic which has become appalling even to the liquor dealer himself, was stressed by Edward Craig, speaker of the state assembly, and Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler, president of California W. C. T. U., in addresses last night in First Methodist church. They were speakers at a session of the Orange county W. C. T. U. 46th annual convention, which opened yesterday and closed this afternoon.

DISCRIMINATION AGAINST UNION LABOR IS CHARGED

Radicals Defeated In Voting

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 20.—(UP)—The state federation of labor at its annual convention here today unanimously endorsed a resolution condemning the use of public works funds in irrigation districts which allegedly discriminate against union workers by employing cheaper labor from the ranks of the unemployed.

The resolution, introduced by C. C. Nunnally of Modesto and K. M. Webb of Stanislaus county, authorizes the federation secretary to draft an immediate protest to state officials of the works progress administration and public works administration. It also calls for a similar protest from William F. Green, national federation head, to PWA and WPA officials in Washington.

Webb and Nunnally claimed that, in many instances, irrigation districts have discriminated against organized labor through the employment of cheaper help. The methods were attacked as "unfair," especially since they involve frequently the employment of unemployed workers who are not even legal residents of the state, advocates of the resolution contended.

"Therefore, be it resolved," the resolution stated, "that the secretary of this federation immediately file a protest with the proper state officials of WPA and PWA and notify President Green of the American Federation of Labor to file a like protest in Washington."

Conservatives Win

Elections yesterday left conservative elements in full control of the federation, with both Edward Vandeleur, president, and Paul Scharrerberg, secretary-treasurer, re-elected, and all but two incumbents defeated.

BARRETT MORE PURSUED BY YOUNG PROTEGE

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Pursued here by airplane by Elaine Barrie, his 19-year-old protegee, John Barrett refused to talk with her when she besieged his stateroom aboard the 29th Century Limited today, according to a copyright story in the Chicago American.

The actor, hurrying to Hollywood with several bodyguards after quarreling with Miss Barrie in New York, escaped from her and reporters by running through the railroad yards, it was reported.

"He loves me—I must see him," Miss Barrie was quoted by the American. She was sobbing when she boarded the train on its arrival here, the story said.

HOT CLASHES MARK MOONEY WRIT HEARING

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Heated clashes between defense and prosecution attorneys over the cross-examination of Mrs. Rena Mooney, wife of Tom Mooney, marked resumption today of the habeas corpus writ hearing by which the convicted Preparedness Day bomber hopes to win his freedom.

Assistant District Attorney William F. Cleary, seeking to ascertain the credibility of Mrs. Mooney as a witness, laid down a barrage of questions dealing with events the day before the bombing.

Establish Memory

It was assumed by court attaches the attorney would seek to establish that her memory of events on the day of the bombing may be more accurate than of happenings either the day before or the day after.

Defense Counsel John F. Flinerty assailed the line of questioning as "cowardly" but was overruled by State Supreme Court Referee A. E. Shaw.

Flinerty finally objected to the whole trend of the prosecution case, asserting it was an effort to agitate Mooney in the newspapers by bringing in matters having no connection with the case at issue.

Mrs. Mooney remained unfazed throughout the course of the morning's examination, but at one point anger was evident in her voice and the flash of her eyes.

Cleary had asked her how many sticks of dynamite were in a suitcase—referring to an alleged dynamite plot in 1913 when Mooney was arrested during a strike of Pacific Gas & Electric company employees and charged with being implicated in placing dynamite caps aboard a railroad of Point San

RESENTMENT OF FARMERS TOLD IN U. S. COURT

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 20.—(UP)—A vigorous and clearcut picture of mob violence that blocked a Missouri farm foreclosure sale was etched in federal court records today.

It delineated a scene of 500 farmers rushing federal court attaches delegated to conduct the sale; revilement of these men, Wall Street, the supreme court, a federal judge and the governor of Missouri; the jerking off of a marshal's shoe, plucking hair from the chest of a bailiff, kicking of a friend of the marshal, and threats liberally punctuated by oaths.

Such acts were detailed in testimony in the hearing of contempt of court charges against 14 farmers named as leaders of the mob. Judge Albert L. Reeves of federal district court is hearing the case. The defendants also are under indictment on a charge of conspiracy to block federal court proceedings.

Follows Seizure

Action against the men is an outgrowth of the seizure of Henry L. Dillingham, U. S. marshal, and his assistants, instructed by Judge Merrill E. Otis to conduct the sale at Plattsburg last August 15.

Dillingham was the principal witness at the first day of the hearing yesterday. Supporting his testimony was that of George Colborn, a bailiff. They detailed physical and verbal abuse they suffered at the hands of the mob.

The marshal said Sam Divilbiss, whose farm was to be sold, struck him with a cane. He quoted Divilbiss as saying: "Wall Street is back of these insurance companies gobbling up these farms. Those dirty old —, the supreme court, is in their pay too."

Dillingham identified 12 of the 14 farmers in the courtroom as leaders of the mob. Counsel for the defense questioning his identification, the marshal remarked bitterly: "If you had gone through day before the bombing."

MEMORY CLOUDED BY SEVERE BEATING

GLENDEN, Calif., Sept. 20.—(UP)—Mrs. Helene H. Posner, 33-year-old Newark, N. J., visitor, professed a clouded memory today to events leading up to a severe beating she endured at the hands of a mysterious assailant.

Recovering from long hours of unconsciousness, the attractive red-haired victim insisted she could remember nothing of being attacked or of being thrown into a garage, three blocks from the home of William McCoy and his wife, whom she has been visiting since her arrival from Newark last January. McCoy was held in technical custody as a material witness.

Mrs. McCoy, intensifying the mystery, said she put her guest to bed after she became ill and knew nothing of her leaving the house. Other witnesses, according to police, told of seeing Mrs. Posner fleeing madly down the street, pursued by a man. She was clad only in bathrobe and stockings.

LACK OF FUNDS PREVENTS BUYING SCHOOL SUPPLIES; BOY TRIES TO END LIFE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 20.—(UP)—Robert Gibson, 13, high school freshman, was eager for an education. He thirsted for knowledge and hoped some day to have many university degrees.

Yesterday he came home from high school with a tattered notebook. The teacher told him it must be replaced. He showed it to his father who has been out of work four years.

"Son," the father said, "you'll have to get along with this one, I guess. We hardly have enough for supper tonight." Robert did not quite understand. He went to bed and cried himself to sleep.

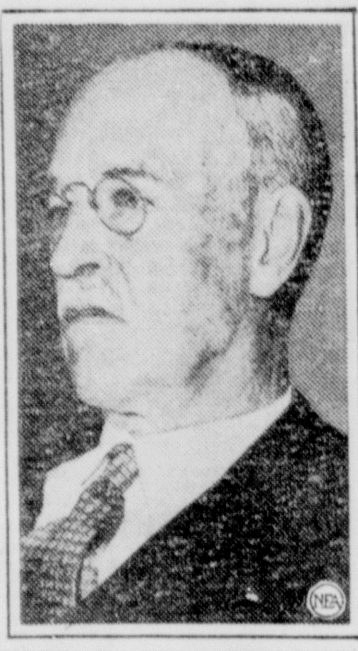

Early today he repeated the request for a new notebook and his mother gave him the same answer. Robert cried again. Then he dried his tears, went into the bedroom and shot himself through the chest with a revolver.

At the hospital he regained consciousness on the operating table to see a physician slashing his shirt to expedite the emergency operation.

"Please don't cut my shirt, mister," the boy said weakly, "it's the only one I got."

WAR TENSION REFLECTED IN U. S. MARKETS

BULLETIN

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(UP)—The wildest break of the year in industrial stocks on the New York Exchange today emphasized the war fears sweeping into American economic centers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(UP)—War tension spread into American industrial and financial life today with soaring commodity prices, big gold shipments from abroad, nervous security and foreign exchange markets and increased Italian inquiries for American products.

Upwards of $8,000,000 in gold now en route to the United States from London as foreign holders seek American refuge for their funds. Transatlantic liners carried big cargoes of gold and reports here indicated reservations for such shipments must be made in advance.

Pound Sterling Drops

These shipments accompanied the sharp slump in foreign currencies which has carried gold currencies to the level where domestic importation is profitable. In addition there was reported to be switching of funds from sterling to dollar, accounting for more than 4 cents drop in the pound sterling since September, to the lowest rate since early June.

Other indications of war tension are shown in the following: Wheat prices in Chicago since August 31 have jumped 9-7 to 113-4 cents a bushel, as of yesterday's close. Trading is heavy.

The Buenos Aires wheat market is more active than in several years with prices rising. Liverpool is active and prices are so much higher that bread prices in London have jumped 3 times in the last few weeks. New York bakers have talked of price rises. Winnipeg

GEN. ATTERBURY IS CALLED BY DEATH

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Gen. W. W. Atterbury, retired president of the Pennsylvania railroad, died today in Bryn Mawr hospital, Philadelphia, the railroad office here announced late today.

Atterbury underwent an operation a year ago last July and had steadily failed since that time. He would have been 76 years old on Jan. 31, 1936.

He retired as president of the railroad on April 24 last, declining an offer by the board of directors to re-elect. Atterbury became president in October, 1925.

ORANGE COUNTY CITIZENS GROUP ORGANIZED FOR SUPPORT OF FLOOD BONDS

At a meeting of about 50 citizens from all sections of Orange county in department two of superior court last evening, where speakers asserted the need of the $12,994,000 county flood control program, for both flood protection and water conservation, an organization was launched to support the $6,660,000 bond issue that will be submitted to the voters October 4.

W. H. Spurgeon Jr., of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, presiding over the meeting, named a committee consisting of M. B. Wellington and Holmes Bishop, of Santa Ana; William Schumacher, of Buena Park; J. W. Crill, of Garden Grove; and A. B. Rousseau, of Bala, to form a larger and representative committee of workers who will conduct the bond campaign in all sections of the county.

Schumacher, former county supervisor, is a director of the Orange County Water district. Crill is president of the Orange County Farm Bureau. Bishop is a rancher and Farm Bureau leader. Rousseau is a realty operator; Wellington, an attorney.

Urges Favorable Vote

Speakers at the meeting warned that because of a probable general feeling among taxpayers against voting more bonds, the proposed new issues faces a hard fight, but said they did not feel that the cause was hopeless by any means. They urged that all who favor the bonds should do their utmost to get out a favorable vote.

Prof. B. A. Etcheverry, of Berkeley, member of the consulting board of engineers, reviewed briefly events leading up to the action of the supervisors in calling the bond election. The application for a federal project was made last May, as soon as the government decided to receive such applications; later it was learned that the War department would consider such a project, so a new application was filed the 2nd.

The speaker also reviewed details of the project, saying that the army engineers, after receiving the application, had increased the original $11,500,000 cost estimate by adding $1,494,000, making a total of $12,994,000. The county is required to provide rights-of-way and reservoir sites and pay the difference between that cost, and the amount the government can allow per man year to the project, the county's share thus being estimated at $6,660,000.

Compares Cost

The former flood control plan, costing nearly $17,000,000, got at most a majority of the voters at the election in 1928; here is a plan that can be procured for about one-third of the cost of the old plan, said the engineer.

"While it is difficult to get people to vote for any bonds, here is a necessary project, that will conserve 40,000 acre feet of water, worth $10,000,000, and provide an other $10,000,000 worth of flood protection, making a total return of $20,000,000 for a $6,660,000 investment," he said.

Water levels in the county, said Prof. Etcheverry, are dropping at the rate of three feet a year. It would be possible to get a flood twice as great as the 1916 flood, he added. Army engineers, he said, have approved the estimate of $11,500,000 damage from the 1916 flood.

George E. Kellogg, of Yorba Linda, president of the Associated Chamber of Commerce, speaking for the bonds "as an individual," said however that his organization would discuss the issue fully and vote upon it. He has instructed his water committee to file a report at the next meeting, and has asked member chambers to send delegates to the meeting instructed to vote for or against support of the bonds. He has asked

EXPECT WAR IN EUROPE IN 10 DAYS; BRITISH EMPIRE THREATENED BY DUCE'S MOVE

(The following is a capitulation of the picture which lies behind the despatches pouring in daily from Geneva, London, Rome, Paris and other European centers, all ominous with the threat of war.)

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE

United Press Cable Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(UP)—War in Europe, which a few months ago was declared by the world's most competent observers to be a remote possibility before another 10 years at least, was accepted on all sides today as a grave, imminent threat.

The threat is of war between England and Italy. Other nations could scarcely be kept out.

The immediate reason is Benito Mussolini's intention of waging war against Ethiopia, but back of it is something more fundamental than an altruistic desire to defend the sovereignty of the backward African kingdom.

Threat To Colonies

It is felt in Britain that Mussolini's present campaign is only the forerunner of a dream of colonial empire, and that if he is permitted to get away with this campaign, he may threaten the whole status of colonial Africa, carved up

British Residents Prepare To Flee Italy; War Clouds Gather

BULLETIN

ROME, Sept. 20.—(UP)—The official press bureau today described as "idiotic" reports published abroad that Baron Pompeo Aloisi, Italian delegate at Geneva, had been instructed to protest to the league council again Britain's fleet concentration in the Mediterranean.

ROME, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Premier Benito Mussolini intends to proceed with his course in East Africa "regardless of consequences," it was said on reliable authority tonight after France had made a last-minute effort to persuade him to talk terms.

The disclosure was made after Count Louis Charles De Chambrun, French ambassador, had spent two and one-half hours with Mussolini, urging him to soften his attitude.

The ambassador was believed to have presented a message from Premier Pierre Laval, pleading with Mussolini to make a settlement at Geneva possible.

French quarters were frankly pessimistic and said they saw no possibility of reaching an accord.

Summary Given
By United Press

Latest developments in the Ethiopian crisis:

Rome—English residents prepare to flee Italy, fearing war. Foreign office spokesman denounces British fleet concentration in Mediterranean.

Paris—Four French warships reported sailing for East Africa on Monday, in addition to two already en route. Senegalese sharpshooters also will be sent, Le Soir understands.

Athens—Twenty-five Italian bombing seaplanes arrive at Italian island of Leros, opposite Greece. Ten British planes get permission to fly over Greece for Egypt.

Harbor Closed

Gibraltar—All three entrances to harbor closed to ships. Spanish air squadron flies overhead for maneuvers over the strait.

Madrid—Spain reinforces garrisons near Gibraltar for its possible defense on land.

Amsterdam—Netherlands decides to strengthen army.

Geneva—League expected to offer Mussolini even smaller concessions if he rejects present proposal.

New York—Tension of war soars reflected in world markets.

Washington—Italian Ambassador Rocco Visi Undersecretary of State Philino and discussed Ethiopian situation tonight.

Rome—Treasury figures reveal expenditures for "East Africa" from July 1, 1934 to August 31, 1935, totaled $137,393,500.

wheat futures daily this week have jumped as much as 3 cents a bushel, the limit.

Copper and Cotton Up

Domestic copper now is 9 cents a pound, up 1-2 cent from September 1 level, reflecting a jump of almost 1-2 cent in the foreign copper price of 8.66 cents, the highest level since July, 1933. Foreign copper climbed on heavy war buying. Cotton prices since the first of September have advanced more than $1.50 a bale with the New York spot cotton price up 35 cents to 11 cents a pound. Precautionary buying through fears the Suez canal may be blocked, thus barring delivery of Indian cotton, has aided this situation.

Stock market prices for "war babies" have climbed as much as 11-12 points with many new highs, particularly in Dupont.

Reflect Bitterness

Newspapers reflected bitterness and rage at Great Britain's opposition to Benito Mussolini's plans. The Piccolo headlined a story: "Provocative Perfidy of Britain Threatens to Lead Europe Into War." Its editorial bitterly attacked Great Britain for supporting "barbaric" Ethiopia.

Bonds Weaken

Bond markets are nervous. British war loans in London have dropped to the year's lows and the issues are weak here. Bank of France and Suez Canal issues on the Paris Bourse have lost upward of 1,000 francs each in recent weeks. The Tokyo exchange has a "war boom." Italian bonds here are nervous after sharp sell-offs when the war tension began to grow in August.

Insurance companies are uncertain on foreign shipments. Marine insurance rates into the zone which will be the center of any difficulties, are higher.

16 KILLED IN LAND RIOTS IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Federal troops today restored order in La Joya, Jalisco, following yesterday's riot over lands in which 16 persons were killed and more than a score injured.

Travelers reaching here today from Jalisco said the fighting had been precipitated by a dispute between agrarians over possession of Ejidos, the residents of La Joya denying the right of neighbors to ownership of land distributed by the government among peasants.

ed for even a minority report, he said, feeling that all facts should be brought out.

Question Answered

The question whether there is assurance that the government will approve the project before October 4, the date of the bond election; also whether the election should proceed if the government had not made its decision by that time, was answered by Supervisor W. C. Jerome.

Jerome said there was no assurance that the decision would be made by October 4 but he believed it would; that it was his own feeling that the bond election should be held October 4, even without such assurance, unless the project had been definitely rejected. In such event, he said, there would be of course no election. The bond issue is submitted to the voters, he said, on the understanding that if approved, the bonds will not be sold unless the government approves the project.

Jerome said the plan presented is the best plan that the supervisors know how to get, and is being submitted "fairly and squarely and honestly," with nobody's motives open to question.

Army in Charge

Army engineers already have demonstrated what a fine job they can do, at Newport harbor, he said. "There has never been a whisper of politics in the harbor set-up, and I hope there will not be in the flood control set-up," he said.

"We, as a board, have gone as far as any earnest-thinking body of men can go, and have presented a plan that has stood the scrutiny of no less than six government agencies. Those who have made the demand that the plan should be prepared and offered, now should see that it is approved by the voters."

Jerome concluded with the statement that "if the bond issue is turned down this time, I, for one, do not want to hear any more complaint about water shortage or flood control in this county."

Questioned by W. C. Mauheran, water district director, Flood Control Engineer M. N. Thompson stated that the Army engineers had personally inspected the premises of the proposed dams in this county.

"Did they indicate they were favorably impressed?" Mauheran asked.

"They would not commit themselves," said Thompson.

Questioned by Carl Heim, of Santa Ana, as to comparisons between the present and former projects, Thompson said that three of the dams had been identical, and described changes that had been made in other units.

Opposition Reported

O. T. Stephens, of La Habra, expressed foreboding at the fate of the bonds in the La Habra area, which he said receives no "direct" benefit from the project. He also reported considerable opposition to the bonds in the Fullerton and Placentia districts.

Assurance of government approval of the project before the bond election is highly advisory, he said. "Without it, I don't believe you'll get five per cent of the vote at La Habra for the bonds," he said.

In response to a question, Prof. Etcheverry said that it was not planned to build the Santa Ana river dam first, then let the rest of the plan go if there were not enough funds for them.

George Kellogg said one of the economic factors not to be overlooked was the prospect of eliminating the relief burden of the county entirely, by providing employment on the dams.

The American Legion, he said,

S. A. HOSPITAL WILL DEMOLISH OLD BUILDING

The old Santa Ana Valley hospital building, facing on Washington avenue at the rear of the present hospital structure, will shortly be razed, it was announced today, following a meeting of the hospital board of directors.

The board voted to demolish the larger of the two remaining structures of the old hospital group. Bids on the contract to demolish it, and also on purchase of its furnishings, will be received by the board, according to Dr. G. Emmett Raitt.

It is expected that the building will be out of the way within 60 days. It will make way for a new driveway extending through the hospital grounds from Wellington on which the new hospital building fronts, to Washington avenue. This improvement, said Dr. Raitt, will make the hospital property more acceptable in appearance.

sibility. It is scarcely conceivable that the public would approve war for the sake of Ethiopia alone. But the empire is another matter.

King in Limelight

Thus King George comes into the limelight—not as the figurehead of a constitutional government but as a leader for whom his millions of subjects have undying loyalty. If his ministers decide war cannot be avoided, the king, despite his love of peace, would be obliged to approve and there can be no doubt the people would rally behind him.

If Britain and Italy go to war, other nations easily might be involved. Despite neighborly friction, England and France are natural allies and joint supporters of the League of Nations. France has her continental allies.

Italy, too, is not without potential allies. Germany has no idea of submitting perpetually without protest to the loss of her rich African colonies, stripped from her after the World war. Observers see the possibility of a drive by Germany with the cooperation of Austria and Hungary down to the Italian border for an alliance stretching from the Baltic to the Mediterranean.

It is, of course, only a possibility. Germany has kept conspicuously silent, and may not feel it in her best interests to move right at this time.

FATHER TAKES BOYS; MOTHER SEEKS CUSTODY

Santa Ana police were given their biggest kidnap scare yesterday afternoon when two small boys were seen to be grabbed on North Bush street near the Southern Pacific railroad tracks and thrown into a car, which then sped down the street.

Two little girls, Dorothy Davis, of 3057 Bush street and her playmate, Joyce Sharp, 2044 Bush street, ran back to the teacher of their school, Isabel F. Lindsey, of the Hoover school on Santa Clara avenue and reported what they had seen.

Miss Lindsey called the police. The boys were Robert Cruickshank, 9, and his little brother, Jack, 7.

Police sent out a general broadcast. The roads and streets were blocked for an hour when Mrs. Alice Whitestone, of 1811 Bush street, mother of the boys called the police and said she had seen her ex-husband drive by the house.

Police were given a description of the car and soon located it. John A. Cruickshank, the father of the boys and his companion Robert V. Laughlin were taken into custody for questioning and taken to the police station.

Act Is Admitted
There they readily admitted that they had taken the two boys. They said the boys were in the care of Cruickshank's attorney in San Gabriel and that they kept driving in the vicinity of Cruickshank's former wife's home, hoping to "kidnap" the daughter as well as the two sons of Cruickshank.

While they were being questioned at police station, other officers and the mother of the children were at the district attorney's office. There she stated that she had divorced Cruickshank in Reno and that the court had given her custody of the children.

The district attorney ruled that the time Mrs. Whitestone spent in Reno did not establish residence for her there so far as California was concerned and that the court there did not have the right, in the eyes of California law, to give her custody of the children.

Police then dropped the case. The boys are still in San Gabriel, so far as is known.

BRITISH RUSH WORLD'S LARGEST WARSHIP TO GIBRALTAR

Mystery veiling movements of the British fleet, as war clouds thickened over Europe, was dispelled when a score of British fighting ships, headed by the Hood, world's largest warship, arrived at Gibraltar. As the British squadron reached the Mediterranean entrance, Mussolini ordered Italian naval forces split, one division taking up a strategic position in the Mediterranean. The Hood, shown here as it appeared on a previous visit to Gibraltar, is a "one-vessel navy," of 46,200 tons with full load, carrying 1341 officers and crew. Costing $30,000,000, it mounts eight 15-inch and 12 5.5-inch guns, 27 smaller guns, and six torpedo tubes. It is designed for 31 knots and can make 32 even in bad weather.

APPROVE NEW WPA PROJECT AT FULLERTON

Approval of another Orange County WPA project, for park improvements in Fullerton, to be done at a cost of $22,632, was given today by District Director George White, who included the new project in several sent today to San Francisco and Washington for confirmation.

The project, described as "park improvements at Hillcrest Park, Fullerton; rebuilding garage, constructing fountain and pool, building stone masonry steps, installing sprinkler system and general landscaping," will give employment to 61 men.

Start of the Works Progress Administration program in Orange County is expected to be under way by the end of the month. Manager Dan Mulholland announced today.

Nineteen projects already have been definitely ratified by federal and state authorities, and only the receipt of definite starting dates is awaited before the start of work.

TOWNSEND CLUBS
Club No. 12 has changed its meeting night from Tuesday to Monday and will meet next Monday night in the Community building, Santa Ana Gardens. It was announced today. The young people will be in charge of the program.

The Ladies' Townsend Club No. 5, having postponed their regular meeting from Wednesday, will meet at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at the home of Mrs. J. G. Hoffer, 602 South Broadway. The Rev. C. D. Hicks will be the speaker. The public is invited.

Action To Quiet Title To Beach Land Is Started

A "friendly" suit against the City of Newport Beach, to quiet title to a 900-foot strip of beach at the city park zone, was filed yesterday in superior court by O. T. Gilbank and Hugo Romberg, through Attorneys West and McKinney.

The plaintiffs state that when the P. E. Land company, original owners of the beach front, deeded it to the city, rights were reserved in this 900-foot strip for use as an amusement zone. The present suit seeks to clear title to such rights.

The claim covers a strip slightly more than 400 feet in width, or nearly half of the beach area between the boardwalk and the water line.

PAIR ARRESTED IN CONNECTION WITH ACCIDENT
Two men were being held in the county jail today on felony counts, in connection with an automobile accident Wednesday night on the Los Alamitos road, in which a Long Beach woman, Mrs. Arthur E. Carlson, was reported seriously injured.

State police officers said soon after the accident that they believed the driver of the car which crashed into the Carlson machine was drunk and that he was spirited away from the scene of the action.

Prompt work on the part of Vernon Barnhill and Dan Adams, highway patrolmen, netted the arrested men.

rest of L. A. Swisegood, 34, salesman of 814 Atlantic boulevard, the owner of the car and Joseph Hasner, 35, service station operator of Long Beach, Route No. 1. Both are hooked as accessories after the fact in connection with a failure to stop and render aid charge. Neither have been arraigned on the charges.

The car the men are asserted to have been connected with first struck a car driven by Charles Harper, of Long Beach and then is said to have collided head-on with the Carlson machine. Carlson was not hurt. His wife was taken to the Long Beach community hospital.

MAN WHO TRIED ESCAPE GIVEN PRISON TERMS LAND CONCERN SUES STANTON FOR $65,000

Following his short-lived escape and recapture yesterday when he made a break for liberty at the courthouse, P. A. Stanton, today was given sentences to Folsom on two burglary charges aggregating from 12 years to life imprisonment, when he appeared before Superior Judge A. Caminetti Jr. He now faces a further charge of escape, a felony offense.

On probation since 1921 on a charge of second-degree burglary, and just convicted of first-degree burglary in connection with entry of the Chaves store at Delhi, Venor was sentenced today on both counts.

He was immediately arraigned before Justice K. E. Morrison, on the escape charge, and was held under $5000 bail pending preliminary hearing September 24.

Venor already has served two terms in penitentiaries of other states. He was sentenced from El Paso, Texas, in 1929 for burglary and served 22 months in the state prison at Huntsville.

In 1933 he was sentenced from Quay county, N. M., for larceny, and served 18 months in the state prison at Santa Fe.

Vitamin D has been found in appreciable quantities in salmon oil, fresh salmon, and other salmon products.

P. A. Stanton, of Anaheim, member of the California Highway Commission, was sued for $65,000 in superior court late yesterday by the Huntington Beach Land and Improvement company, which bases its suit on alleged promissory notes. Mrs. Stanton is also named defendant in the action.

The plaintiff company further seeks foreclosure against 21,000 shares of the Bayside Land company, which the Stantons pledged as security for the notes. It is alleged.

The complaint recites that on September 25, 1930, Stanton purchased 16,000 shares of the Bayside Land company stock from the Huntington Beach Land and Improvement company, at a price of $120,000, and that he paid $20,000 at the time of the purchase, and $35,000 later, leaving a balance of $65,000 assertedly due.

The stock purchased, together with 5000 shares of stock already owned by Stanton, were pledged as security for payment of the unpaid balance, according to the complaint on file.

Holdings of the Bayside Land company recently were sold at a foreclosure sale from the courthouse steps for approximately $294,000, it was recalled.

CHURCH STAND IN TIMES OF CHANGE TALKED

Concluded last evening by an address on the topic "What Message Has the Church for Today?" delivered by Dr. J. E. Dunning, pastors and wives of the 14 Methodist churches of Orange county, and about 200 laymen and their wives, held an all-day session at the Orange Methodist church yesterday.

Dr. Dunning, superintendent of the Methodist churches of the San Diego district, declared that the church is facing a problem of social change at present and there is perplexity as to where the church should place its emphasis. Some feel, he stated, that emphasis should be placed on the inner life of the individual, believing that the adjustment of the individual life to social conditions will effect desired social changes.

Social Unrest

The fact that a social change is in progress and that there is social injustice and unrest, is the most pressing problem of the church, said the speaker. Dr. Dunning stated that he does not believe that the church is to develop details for a better social order but that it should voice the ideals on which a better social order may be built. The only effective bond which unites all mankind, he said, is not violence but love; the strong should stand for the weak as what hurts the least member of society hurts all.

Talks were given by the supervisor of the Orange county district of Goodwill Industries, and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Angne. Morning discussions were followed by a luncheon.

Dr. George A. Warner headed panel discussions and others taking part were Dr. R. C. Harker of Anaheim, Dr. Horace K. Holtzinger of La Habra, the Rev. Grover C. Ralston of Garden Grove, the Rev. E. Dow Hoffman of Fullerton and the Rev. Joseph Hoffman of Wintersburg.

At noon a devotional service was held in charge of the Rev. W. J. Lowe of Costa Mesa. The pastor of the Orange church presided at the evening meeting and Miss Zara Sergeant sang two solos, accompanied by Mrs. Rex Parks.

ORANGE COUNTY WILL DENY AID TO TRANSIENTS

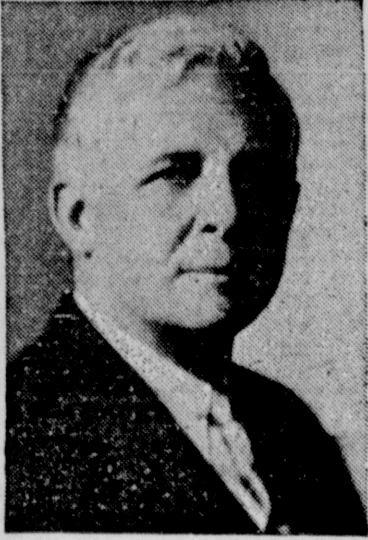

Orange county always has followed the general policy of refusing aid to indigent transients. It was stated today by County Welfare Director Byron V. Curry, when his attention was called to action of Los Angeles county officials in erecting a "starvation wall" against the transients.

"However," said Curry, "there are necessarily some few exceptions to the rule; cases in which the need is real and there is an emergency. In such cases, we have extended temporary relief to transient families, while trying to solve their problems to get them back to their home localities."

"But we always have barred the transient bum," he said.

SPEAKER

Senator Culbert L. Olson, below, chairman of the Democratic State Central committee, who will be the featured speaker at a Democratic rally in Riverside Sunday, which will be attended by a large delegation from Orange county.

SENATOR OLSON WILL SPEAK AT BOURBON RALLY

In view of the approaching visit of President Roosevelt and others high in the official life of the nation, interest in the coming campaign is increasing and Senator Olson's knowledge of the present economic and political situation makes his message one of great importance to the people of California, the announcement said.

In addition to Senator Olson, representatives of many liberal groups will deliver addresses, among others Dr. Wolf Adler, noted economist and writer who is on the speakers staff of the Utopian Society.

Members of the board of the End Poverty League who will speak are Jerry Voorhis, head of the Boys School at San Dimas, and Percy Rogers, well known Epic organizer, who is director from the 19th Congressional district.

Stories in STAMPS By I. S. Klein

AT the same time that Germany issued special stamps commemorating the 250th anniversary of the birth of perhaps its two greatest composers, Johann Sebastian Bach and Georg Friedrich Handel, it added a third stamp to the series, in honor of the "Father of German Music," Heinrich Schütz.

Schütz was born in 1585 and died in 1672. He was not to become so great a genius as either Bach or Handel, but he did win everlasting fame when, upon the marriage of the daughter of Johann Georg I of Saxony in 1627, he was commissioned to compose the first opera ever performed in Germany.

In his time there were three famous "S's" in German music. One was Schütz. The second was Johann Hermann Schein, cantor and court director. The third was Samuel Scheidt, organist. All were from Saxony. Schütz, although educated for the law, studied in Venice, became court director and wrote several oratorios, madrigals, psalms, and other works.

News Behind the News—

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

QUIT

Although it has been slow in looking out, Sue White's resignation from Dr. Hamilton's council discloses the difficulties the New Dealers face in evolving a practical program for checking the rise in living costs.

Miss White is a loyal political soldier, formerly connected with the Democratic National Committee, and would not have stepped out without some provocation. As a consumers' protector she had helped to build up the nationwide system of consumers' councils. They were supposed to report the trend of prices, forward complaints against excessive increases and furnish a yardstick for comparison.

Miss White thought they could perform a real and immediate function. But the Hamilton plan seemed to her to jeopardize their position. Her superiors took the position that the country groups' investigations and complaints would aggravate dissatisfaction and undermine all efforts to work toward a permanent solution. They didn't want to stir up trouble while setting up a long-range program. So she quit.

UNITED

Private transportation interests—railroads, trucks, air lines, waterways and pipe lines—have organized to beat off the threat of government ownership of passenger and freight facilities. It marks a desperate last stand by these rival interests to keep an aggressive New Deal from laying hands on them.

The new organization, which will soon be born amidst a blare of trumpets, has built from the "grass roots" up as far as the "grass roots" will permit. It represents individuals, corner grocers, big shippers, bond-holders and transport interests. It will set up a research division to study how to divide a constantly dwindling total of business among a constantly increasing number of competitors so that all may survive and attract new capital. Then it will carry its campaign into every state and Congressional district.

Though the sponsors don't admit it publicly, they fear that FDR has designs on them, and may move to take them over when and if their financial difficulties force them to surrender. A clever railroad lawyer has discovered that the Wheeler bill, instead of providing simply for government ownership of railroads, demands federal ownership of "all transportation lines." That's why these traditional enemies have united—for the first time!

TIME

New Deal lawyers have changed their pace in advancing toward the Supreme Court trenches. They want to hear the bad—or good—news as soon as they can.

Instead of delaying the march of crucial cases—the processing tax, slum clearance, TVA, Wagner and Guffey laws—toward the high tribunal for final adjudication, they are cooperating to get quick trials. TVA's solicitor is moving in refusing to oppose a test action was the tipoff. Behind the scenes D. J. Leach lights are working furiously to prepare appeals. They look for a decision on some major measures before Christmas.

Whereas government attorneys dawdled deliberately in the first two years, they now believe a speedy determination will prove advantageous. If the court cracks down again, it will permit Congress to try to revise the laws in question without unduly prolonging the next session. If President Roosevelt decides to appeal from the court to the people in a big way, as he has hinted, the earlier the judicial rebuff the more time he will have for his campaign.

REGULAR

The GOP can now cross Carter Glass and Harry Byrd of Virginia off their list of potential Democratic troublemakers in the 1936 presidential campaign. These two distinguished sons of the Old Dominion may not warm to the New Deal—but they won't desert the party.

For some months the administration seemed to withhold patronage from these two Senatorial critics. Anti-New Dealers concluded that Jim Farley was seeking revenge for their opposition to White House legislation. Perhaps so, but the real trouble was that the two Senators could not get together on nominees for important posts. Now, through the conciliatory activities of Virginia officeholders of the Federal Farm Bank and W. Forbes Morgan, it is understood that differences have been composed.

There are even more cogent reasons for their continued party regularity. Messrs. Glass and Byrd are not the type to abandon convictions merely because of patronage blessings. Mr. Byrd will remain a possible presidential nominee for some years and cannot afford to surrender his party status. As for Mr. Glass, well, his daddy lost an eye when northern carpetbaggers invaded Virginia in the reconstruction days. He'll stay Democratic some way.

BACKERS

Republican friends have warned Gov. Frank Knox to fold up his presidential lightning rod for a while. They have told him it was simply attracting bugs and moths and trouble.

Veteran politicians friendly to the Chicago publisher criticize his tactics. They say he is making too many speeches, expressing too many serious ideas and accepting the support of certain Old Guardmen who cannot deliver delegates. The Middle West's resentment toward his proposal for a bounty as a solution of the farm problem apparently convinced him that they knew what they were talking about.

The Chicagoan seems to have plenty of financial backing. Many GOP-ers have rallied to his support, including ex-Senator Jim Watson of Indiana, ex-Senator George Moses of New Hampshire and Bob Lucas of Kentucky. But nowadays too much money and too many ex-Senators may be more of a handicap than a help to a presidential candidate. He must pick his "angels" and his apostles with care.

CONTEST

The old Constitution was trotted out in scores of communities Tuesday, with fervent warnings against New Deal attacks upon the aged and infirm charter. President Roosevelt seems to take delight in throwing a chill into constitution-ists by hinting that it needs re-writing, but when pressed he blandly suggests that it's up to the people—they can amend the Constitution if they like, and that's all.

What the constitutionists ardently hope for is a smashing decision from the Supreme Court—something that will give the New Deal a permanent breathing spell. If the court should fall them now, or divide substantially fifty-fifty, it would be just too bad for the growing element that is trying to steer the next campaign into a contest between the New Deal vs. Americanism.

NOTES

European soundings as to American attitude on the "economic boycott of Italy" get nowhere, according to State Department information. Lots of discouraged officials in the Public Works Administration. Enthusiastic and increasing personnel under Rex Tugwell, who wins out in the scramble for funds. The Supreme Court doesn't use the government Printing Office—it hires a little job-printer to print its decisions, and he doesn't leak.

NEW YORK
By James McMullen
COMPLICATIONS

Informed sources say that Governor George L. Harrison of the New York Federal Reserve Bank has been offered a job as a director of the Bank for International Settlements—and that there's quite an argument raging behind the scenes as to whether he should be allowed to accept it. It's understood that he would like to do so—but there are obstacles.

Permission of the Federal Reserve Board is required—and has so far been withheld. There are problems of political diplomacy to be considered. Isolationists would undoubtedly protest the appointment of another backdoor entry to the League of Nations.

Such cooperation on our part with the Bank for International Settlements would also probably be interpreted as evidence that our government is ready to participate in a currency stabilization agreement—which would bring vehement objections from the Committee for the National and Congressional opposition to stabilization. Complications of this sort would do no good to FDR's reelection campaign.

KEY

On the other hand Secretary Morgenthau is understood to be favorably inclined. Harrison could act as an unofficial liaison man with European central banks and keep him posted as to what they are thinking and doing. The United States has had no direct contact with the B.I.S. since Gates W. McGarrath and Leon Fraser resigned from its board—and the Treasury misses a valuable pipe line of information.

Mr. Morgenthau's wishes usually carry weight—and New York gets word that the President is bending an attentive ear in this case. He has been urged to bring pressure on the Reserve Board to change its attitude. If it should resist his wishes—which is unlikely once they are clearly expressed—there's a new board to be named early next year.

If Mr. Harrison is allowed to serve he will be a key figure in all financial and monetary negotiations between this country and Europe. That would be quite a comeback for a man who was supposed to be on his way to the nearest exit when the New Dealers took over in '33.

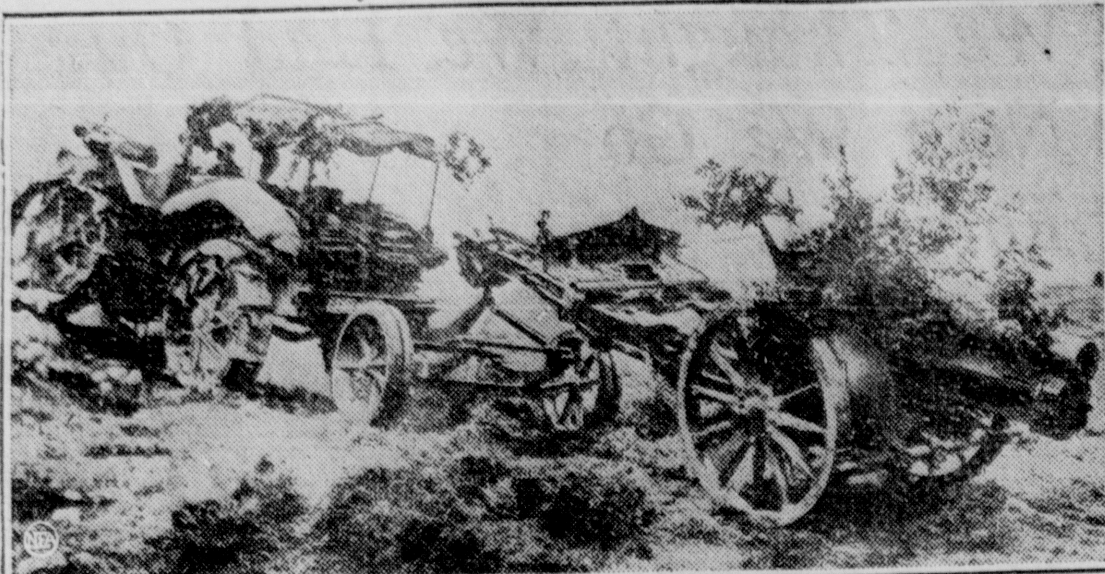

DEAF

New York is pained to learn that Secretary Morgenthau has not abandoned his idea of selling Treasury securities at auction. Financial circles though he was cured when his last auctioned offering flopped and he went back to the fixed price system to put over the final conversion of Fourth Liberties. But it now develops that their hopes were premature.

The Treasury accomplishes two objectives by selling to the highest bidder. For one thing this permits the marketing of a huge single bond issue in serial installments—all alike as to coupon and maturity. This facilitates absorption and makes it unnecessary to float a lot of different issues of a mere few hundred million dollars each—thus greatly simplifying the eventual refunding problem. Treasury experts also claim that the auction system tends to stabilize the prices of federal securities—a contention which bond dealers warmly deny.

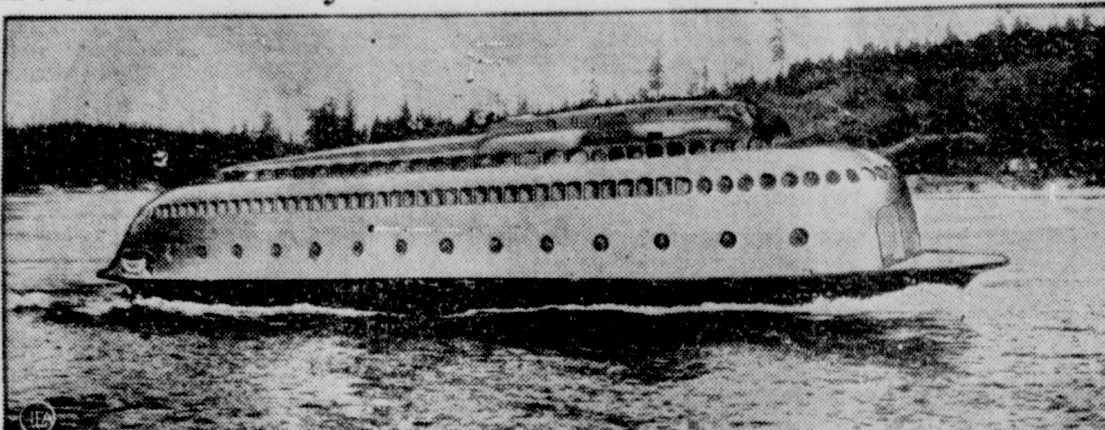

You may wonder why security dealers dislike to bid competitively for federal issues when they do so regularly for state and municipal offerings. The answer is that state and municipal issues are small enough so that dealers can—and do—bid for all or none. The winning house gets the whole works and the market for that particular security is in its hands—so it isn't likely to get stuck.

Duce's "Cavalry of Steel" in Mock-War Training

"Cavalry of Steel" is Italy's name for her motorized artillery, which can operate in mountainous country. Here's a tractor pulling a camouflaged gun into position near Brenner Pass, the gateway to Austria. During extensive war maneuvers, guns like this boomed a warning to Germany that Mussolini will tolerate no German interference in Austria while he is busy with the impending Ethiopian war.

Even the Ferry Boats Will Boast of Streamlining

The world's first completely streamlined vessel will be the Puget Sound ferry Kalakala, under construction for operation between Seattle and Bremerton, Wash. Aerodynamic principles have been applied, and the deck structure will be completely enclosed in a welded steel shell with main deck lifeboats completely inset within the shell. The craft is to begin operations in July, with a 18-knot speed and a capacity of 2000 passengers and 120 autos. Photo shows a small model of the craft.

But Treasury issues are so large that no one bidder can take more than a small fraction of a single offering. So a firm that bids too high is left on a limb if the market goes down—and at best is at a disadvantage against a lower bidder whose offer is yet high enough to be accepted. No dealer can ever tell in advance how he will come out—and the boys hate such uncertainty. But alas, Mr. Morgenthau remains deaf to their eloquent private complaints.

LATE

Tammany is quietly preparing to knock the stuffing out of Mayor LaGuardia's municipal power plant referendum. The faithful will be mobilized full strength for that worthy purpose. Consolidated Gas is too old and valued a friend of the organization to be subjected to such competition as the Mayor proposes.

Insiders are betting that Tammany will get away with it. LaGuardia was expected to whip up a lively ballyhoo for his pet project in order to stimulate public enthusiasm—but he hasn't done anything about it yet. It is probably too late to do the job effectively now—which is good news for Con Gas.

COLLECTING

New Yorkers like this story of AAA absurdity—one of many that are constantly trickling in.

An owner of farm land had a tenant who planted five acres of tobacco for several years. When the tenant left the owner decided to substitute some other crop—as he had never raised tobacco and didn't care to begin.

Then along came an AAA agent and offered to pay him for not planting tobacco. It was understood he would be free to plant any other crop he chose. So he is collecting $200 a year for three years for not raising something that he never intended to raise anyway.

SERENE

The Securities Exchange Commission is distinguished from most other government agencies by the serenity with which it conducts its operations. Observers in close contact with it note a remarkable absence of internal dissension. There was a momentary flash of resentment when James D. Ross was named to handle holding company matters in preference to other candidates suggested by the Commission—but everything was peaceful and happy again within a few days. Comment runs that Jokes, Roper and others would do well to learn Joe Kennedy's formula.

SIDELIGHTS

Three Martin and three Sikorsky planes have been built for Pan American's trans-Pacific service. . . . The hot oil problem is again becoming acute in Texas. . . . Rayon shipments in August equalled the monthly record established last January and were about 60 per cent above the 1934 monthly average.

Animals Walk Out? Nope!

Animals at the Cincinnati municipal zoo didn't threaten to walk out; the lions haven't been roaring about sweat-cage conditions, and the camels don't give a hump about hours or wages. Nevertheless, the picture above isn't a lot of monkey business. It shows zoo strikers resisting police attempts to seize their banner, prohibited in the park.

HANDY ELMER

Looking at this picture one would judge that Elmer (the Great) Dean is even more handily equipped as a pitcher than either Dizzy or Paul Dean, his illustrious brothers with the St. Louis Cardinals. Elmer Dean, now touring the country with the bewhiskered House of David club, has one of the largest pair of hands in the game. He is holding 11 baseballs in his pitching hand, and wishing no doubt, that he could throw just one of them as fast as Dizzy or Paul.

SEAT OFFICERS OF BRETHREN CHURCH SOON

SCOUT TROOP WILL GO TO EXPOSITION

The troop will stay over Saturday night, camping in the Indian Village at the exposition, and will see as much of the fair as their short visit will permit.

Members of the troop will assemble for the trip at 1:30 p. m. Saturday at Veterans hall, all being instructed to bring their blanket rolls.

"STARVATION WALL" ERECTED IN L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Local relief officials, supported by the county board of supervisors, yesterday erected a "starvation wall" to keep out transients without funds.

Executing a long-threatened move, the supervisors and officials of the county relief administration announced they positively would accept no applications for aid from indigents who arrive after today. To put teeth in the edict, the board repealed a county ordinance which provided emergency relief for persons who could not qualify for the usual requirement of one year's residence.

ANAHEIM C. OF C. TOLD OF PROJECT

ANAHEIM, Sept. 20.—Anaheim Chamber of Commerce directors heard a talk by Supervisor Willard Smith on the water conservation and flood control project to be voted on October 14 when they met yesterday. Smith gave a resume of the water problem and the action taken by the board of supervisors in urging a favorable vote on the project.

"We have the opportunity to insure our county's future for a cost of 50 cents on the dollar. If we do not take advantage of it we will be called upon to turn over the amount the government is giving us to some other district and eventually we will need to undertake the present program anyway, financing the entire thing ourselves," he declared.

The board of the chamber agreed to enter a float in the Buena Park booster parade September 28. A committee was appointed to submit the name of a candidate to fill the place left on the board by the death in August of Leonard Evans.

HOT CLASHES MARK MOONEY WRIT HEARING

Pablo. He was acquitted after three trials.

"Mr. Cleary, you're impossible," Rena Mooney said scornfully.

Defense attorneys again objected to efforts of the prosecution to get testimony from Mrs. Mooney on subjects concerning which Mooney himself had already professed ignorance. Again the referee over-ruled the objection.

Yesterday Mooney attorneys intimated they would prove that someone standing on the roof of the town office building threw the bomb.

Mrs. Mooney, who has stood by her husband through the years of his imprisonment, introduced the new theory in her testimony late yesterday.

Describing their movement on the day of the bombing, she said she and Mooney were on the roof of the Eller building, a mile from the explosion scene, watching the Preparedness parade.

"The first we knew of the bombing was when a policeman arrived with orders to clear the roof," she testified.

"We asked him why. He answered: 'They've been throwing bombs from roofs downtown.'"

John F. Finnerty, Washington attorney associated in the Mooney defense, interrupted to explain to the court that the defense was showing that the bomb which killed those 10 persons was thrown from a roof at Stewart and Market streets."

FOLSOM PRISON, Cal., Sept. 20.—(UP)—Warren K. Billings is angry.

Convicted with Thomas Mooney of the 1916 Preparedness day bombing in San Francisco, Billings was sent to Folsom, Mooney to San Quentin.

Now Billings is mad because he has been refused permission to appear at the Mooney hearing in San Francisco.

Charles Emory Wright, active member of the grand council, order of DeMolay for the Jurisdiction of Southern California, will bestow the honors.

Working with general chairman Roy Wheeler will be Richard M. Bradley, alumni president; Abe Bergsatter, George Mathews and John Birt, past master counselors of the Santa Ana chapter; John K. Schrier and Harry Fink, alumni advisor.

BEN BERNIE DIVORCED
CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Ben Bernie, orchestra leader, whose real name is Benjamin Anzelevitz, today was free to marry again. His second wife is expected to be Dorothy Wesley, a swimmer, now in Miami Beach, Fla. The radio "maestro" was granted a divorce at a secret hearing late yesterday before Superior Judge Rudolph F. Desort, on charges of desertion.

DIFFICULT DECISIONS

There's not much playing on the back lot this time of year, because by the time the argument is settled whether it's too late in the season to play baseball, or too early to play football, it is usually too dark to play either.

Dave Wettlin Is With Insurance Company Here

David G. Wettlin, former deputy district attorney and well known attorney, announced through the mails today that he now is connected with the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance company with offices located at 204 Builders' Exchange building, 206 North Main street.

Wettlin is leading the county in applications procured during the past several weeks that he has been with the company. He expects to locate here permanently.

"I am equipped to offer my friends the very best in modern life insurance service, and to advise with them concerning the many ways life insurance may be used in the solution of their problems and protection of their loved ones and property," he declared.

NEW TRIAL IS DEMANDED FOR KIDNAP PAIR

Frank Rosa and Faustino Sauteda, facing possible life sentences for the kidnaping and criminal assault of Mrs. Mickey Dean, young Santa Ana widow, stayed off pronouncement of judgment today in Superior Judge H. G. Ames' court, when their attorney, N. D. Meyer, filed a motion for a new trial.

Hearing of the motion was set by Judge Ames for next Friday at 11 a. m.

In Judge A. Caminetti Jr.'s court, Homer H. Ruffe, charged with felonious assault with a knife upon Malcolm Sheppard and Carl Stark, of Newport Beach, in a cafe at Sunset Beach August 17, pleaded not guilty. His trial was set for October 1 in Judge Ames' court.

C. W. Campbell pleaded guilty to drunk driving on Verano road south of Garden Grove September 6, and applied for probation. Judge Caminetti set his hearing for September 27.

Charge Dismissed
Passage of a new law, which makes the alleged offense a misdemeanor instead of a felony, as it was under the old law, caused dismissal of a charge that Jack M. Palmer and Buck Storey had operated a motorcycle belonging to Donald Ewart, of Santa Ana, without the owner's consent. The court sustained their demurrer to the felony charge and it was dismissed.

Margarito Quiroz pleaded not guilty to a charge of possessing marijuana, but his co-defendant, Jose Pantoja, pleaded guilty and asked probation. Pantoja's hearing was set for September 27, and the Quiroz trial for September 28, in Judge Caminetti's court.

Everett Hendry, of Brea, was placed on probation for three years in connection with a charge of non-support, on condition that he pay $15 per month to his family, through the probation department.

Charlie Salazar, of Placentia, arrested for drunk driving at Garden Grove September 3, was granted probation for two years, on condition that he serve 90 days in the county jail.

Police News
Dan Grimes, 32, 122 Orange avenue was arrested by police last night near Fourth and French streets. He was booked at the county jail, charged with disturbing the peace.

Antonio Ybarra, 27, of 511 Daisy street, was booked at the county jail on a charge of assault and battery last night by Santa Ana police officers. The complaint against him was signed by Margaret Downey who said he beat her.

KENNEDY RESIGNS SECURITIES POST

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 20.—(UP)—President Roosevelt said today that he had received the resignation of Joseph P. Kennedy as chairman of the securities and exchange commission and that an exchange of letters between them would be made public tonight.

Kennedy's resignation, the president added, is effective Monday. He explained that the question of his quitting the commission had been in the making several weeks, adding that he took the position only for a specific time in the first place.

On leaving office Kennedy will sail for Europe.

ing war, made plans today to leave the country, and some of the more timid departed for home.

Today was Italy's "Day of Unity" and it found the nation ready for the imminent outbreak of war with Ethiopia, mindful of the sacrifices it may entail but ready to meet them.

"Italy has predominant rights in Ethiopia," said Il Piccolo.

"Nobody outside the actual dispute can deny these rights nor withstand her march. Not even the navies of his majesty's government. There is no other choice. If Italy had not exercised its undoubted rights it would be subscribing by its act to political vassalage."

British officials here believe there is no possibility of conflict. Observers, however, remember such incidents as the Maine and fear an incident which might start a war, especially as reports from Geneva indicate that the league of nations is adopting a firmer attitude against Italy, with a growing chance that penalties might be employed.

GREECE AND SPAIN ACT
(Copyright 1935 by United Press)

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Greece and Spain, Italy's neighbors east and west across the Adriatic and Mediterranean seas, joined today in action which indicated they would back Great Britain in event of a clash.

Greece gave official permission for Britain to send 10 heavy royal air force bombing planes across Greece to Egypt, and to refuel at Greek bases at Paphos bay and at Myrambellos bay in Crete.

Spain, in another of the significant "maneuvers" that have laid the foundation for a grand-scale clash, strengthened its garrisons behind Gibraltar and in the neighborhood of Ceuta, the African Gibraltar only 15 miles across the entrance to the Mediterranean.

Courier Offer
(Copyright, 1935, by United Press)

PARIS, Sept. 20.—(UP)—French sources reported today that Benito Mussolini had approached Great Britain with an offer to cease sending troops to northern Africa if Britain would forego military penalties in event of an Ethiopian war.

Pertinax, political commentator of the newspaper Echo de Paris, and perhaps France's leading writer on foreign affairs, asserted that Britain would refuse the offer.

Harbor Closed
GIBRALTAR, Sept. 20.—(UP)—All three entrances to the harbor of Great Britain's mighty base at Gibraltar were closed today with nets.

As the booms swung into place a Spanish air squadron dived overhead, having arrived at Tarifa, 15 miles away, across the straits from the British fortress, from Seville. After brief maneuvers it took off again for Seville, but is expected to return to Tarifa soon.

Native Hawaiians have a legend that Pele, goddess of love, lives deep inside the crater of Kilauea, great Hawaiian volcano. The wool, they found, was made by action of steam striking molten lava—and today "Pele's hair" is manufactured commercially.

RE-SUBMIT PWA PROJECTS FOR TWO SCHOOLS

A probability that PWA applications for Brea and Fullerton school district construction projects would be approved was voiced today, as the two school districts resubmitted their applications, changed to conform to PWA requirements.

The total cost of the projects, including all school building, remains unchanged in the new specifications, but the maximum amount to be paid labor was lowered, which will give employment to more men.

The decision to recapitulate the figures was reached following a conference between school district officials and PWA heads in Los Angeles, after the projects had been rejected by the administration.

The maximum per year amount to be paid laborers under the new specifications will be $850, instead of $1135, as in the original figures.

The Fullerton project, for $427,273, included requests for appropriations for the construction of the Wilshire Junior High school; erection of a new auditorium and other building and improvement of the Ford, Maple, Chapman and Valencia grammar schools.

The Brea grammar school project calls for an expenditure of $145,320. Both the Fullerton and Brea districts held recent bond elections, in which they approved the projects and voted the passage of bonds, contingent on the granting of the PWA applications.

what I did that afternoon you would recognize them too."

Blames Court Ruling
The witness testified Homer Crowley said in the heat of violence: "The supreme court took the only weapon the farmers had, the Frazier-Lemke bill."

He went on to say that the mobsters were pulling the hair off Colborn's chest, and told him, "You baldheaded old —, if you had more hair on your head we'd pull that out too."

While he was in captivity, Dillingham said, a friend appeared and shook his hand. The farmers seized the man and learning of his friendship for the marshal "began kicking him and ran him out of town."

Charges against A. P. Frye, one of the 15 cited for contempt, were dismissed, as was the charge of conspiracy against him. Maurice Milligan, U. S. district attorney prosecuting the case, told the court he doubted that Frye participated in the demonstration.

Colborn identified one of the defendants as the man who plucked hair from his chest. He pointed to another who he said beat him. A pair of torn trousers was introduced as evidence and recognized by Colborn.

"Don't you ever come back here, you —, or we'll hang you," one of the men threatened Colborn, he testified.

Milligan, telling how one of the leaders seized Dillingham's leg and jerked off his shoe, demonstrated on his assistant and practically unseated him without loosening the shoe.

POLICE FIND TRUCK
USED BY SLAYERS

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 20.—(UP)—The green truck believed used by two men sought in the slaying of Mrs. Catherine Geer, 57, El Cajon hog rancher, has been found at Huntington Park, police reported today.

Messages from Huntington Park said one clear fingerprint was found on the window of the truck and would be sent here for comparison with those found at the ranch and on the note which led police to discovery of the crime.

Mrs. Geer's body, crudely gagged and with hands and feet trussed behind her, was found with her head badly battered on the floor of the kitchen at her ranch home.

Identity of the two believed to have bound Mrs. Geer, kicked her to death and ransacked the house, is known and prompt arrests are expected. Undersheriff George Brereton said.

Members of the Orange County Justice of the Peace Association held their monthly meeting at the home of the Orange American Legion, at Orange last night, to hear an address by J. T. Hall, counsel for the Automobile Club of Southern California, who talked on "Traffic Conditions."

Preston Turner, deputy district attorney also addressed the justices, his subject being "New Amendments to the California Justice Court in California." A large number of justices was present.

The meeting was in charge of the president, Justice Fred S. Warner of San Clemente. Hosts for the evening were Justice A. W. Swayze, of Orange and Captain Henry Meehan of the California Highway patrol.

bent vice-presidents returned to office.

Harry Bridges, San Francisco longshoremen's representative and member of the "liberal" group, was defeated as a candidate for the San Francisco district.

Legislation for a "new NRA" was asked in another resolution introduced by the state president.

The resolution contended practically all wage-cutting and lengthening of hours of work since abandonment of the "blue eagle" has been done by non-union industries, and asked that legislation which would protect organized laborers be furthered.

Endorsement of a six-hour day and a thirty-hour week was given unanimously, as well as approval of a program designed to halt "speed-up plans" on the part of employers, who delegates said in some instances have attempted to balance shorter working hours by forcing more speed.

HOSPITALITY
NIGHT DRAWS
THROUGHS HERE

Bright lights, music, entertainment and a galaxy of fall style features attracted thousands to downtown Santa Ana district last night, as merchants played host to residents of the county.

The Hospitality Night event found the streets crowded, and visitors thronging all stores in the district. Every store made a special entertainment effort, as a token of its appreciation of the patronage given by county residents during the year.

A street concert by the Orange County Boy Scout band under the direction of T. Dunstan Collins, and music by the Santa Ana Municipal and Night School band proved features that attracted hundreds of listeners.

From end to end of the shopping district crowds thronged the streets, from 7 o'clock till 9:30 o'clock, when the doors of all stores were closed reluctantly on the bright parade of new styles and fashions for the fall months.

The affair was termed a huge success by officials who were in charge of arranging it. The Hospitality Night was sponsored by the merchants' division of chamber of commerce, under the direction of Chairman J. H. Bell, Chamber Secretary Howard I. Wood, and special committees.

Christian Science Lecture Given Here Last Night

"Christian Science: God's Rich Blessing to Humanity," was the subject of the lecture given at the Santa Ana First Church of Christ, Scientist, last night by Peter B. Higgins, C.S.B., of Seattle, Washington, a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. The text of the lecture follows:

Christian Science, as discovered, taught, and founded by Mary Baker Eddy, brings blessing into the lives of those who receive its healing message, and it is a joy to tell about this blessedness and blessing. Christ Jesus, who understood God so well, has said, "This is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent." This rich blessing, the understanding of eternal life, is gained by knowing God aright. So it is well worth our while to consider the true nature and character of God.

God Christian Science teaches that God is divine Principle, the infinite source or origin from whom man proceeds. God is divine Mind, Truth and Love, Spirit, Soul, Life. He is divine intelligence, infinite substance, our Father-Mother, the cause and creator of all that really is. God has revealed Himself throughout succeeding generations to those who have been prepared to receive Him. Thus there came to Abram of old a clear revelation of God. Abram lived on the plains of Mesopotamia about the year 1900 B. C. He turned from the pagan worship which his fellow countrymen were devoted to, and caught a clear glimpse of the one God, who is revealed in Christian Science as the one Mind, the supreme intelligence, who, though invisible to the physical senses, governs the universe and man in perfect harmony. Abram and his family left their native country, and later came into Canaan. God promised that He would bless him and his family, and all humanity in these words: "I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing; . . . and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed." Abram was faithful to his new vision of the one God, and so we see a remarkable unselfishness expressed in his life. This resulted in continual spiritual growth for Abram, and when he had attained the age of ninety years and nine, he received a higher revelation. He then heard the voice of God saying, "I am the Almighty God; walk before me, and be thou perfect."

Abram's glimpse of the omnipotence and perfection of God made a great change in his experience. As a result his name was changed from Abram, meaning "high father," to Abraham, meaning "father of a multitude." The true and perfect nature of God had appeared to Abraham. At the same time he needed the need of walking before God—of taking every necessary human footstep in working out the problem of being. This revelation of the nature of God and true being, and of the practical method of using it, has been recorded in the Scriptures, and thus it has been preserved.

Salvation Whenever this light of divine Truth comes to an individual, it brings some measure of salvation from evil, that is, from the belief in evil. It makes one more active, and better able to express one's true individuality. As this glorious light enabled Abraham to exercise more faith in God, so this light, coming to us today through Christian Science, frees us from the tendency to doubt God and to be afraid of evil. When these errors, doubt and fear, are removed from human consciousness by spiritual understanding, we are entering the kingdom of heaven. Instead of depending upon material things for happiness, health, or supply, it is better to turn to the infinite possibilities resident in divine Mind. This intelligent trust in God frees from a sense of apathy, or inertia. It imparts increased alertness, diligence, persistence in doing good. This consciousness of Truth saves from all evil beliefs, dishonesty, suspicion, fear, doubt, hatred, resentment, revenge. It imparts a higher sense of honesty, courage, confidence, affection, forgiveness. This consciousness of Truth makes the thoughts of men this of the belief in disease by imparting the understanding of God's saving health.

Salvation from error is wrought as we gain a clear sense of the present perfection of God and man. Even a glimpse of this spiritual fact awakens one to take all practical steps towards its realization. It reveals the possibilities of complete salvation. This salvation can begin here and now and continue until that which is false and unreal has been dispelled. Our salvation lies in conscious alignment with God. Well does Isaiah represent God as saying, "Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else." This does not mean that the Christian Scientist closes his eyes to the evils that are apparent in the world. Far from it. The understanding which Christian Science brings makes one more keenly conscious of the need of getting rid of all that is unlike the Mind of Christ. Instead of teaching that evil is as real or powerful as good, or more real or powerful than good, it makes clear that evil can and must be overcome by the diligent practice of good. Thus it teaches practical salvation, a present redemption from evil.

Jesus The revelation of the one true God which Abraham had gained was enjoyed also by his descendants, by Isaac, by Jacob, and by the children of Israel. The vision of Truth caught by them, and in an outstanding degree by Moses and the prophets, had prepared the more spiritually-minded among the Jewish people for the coming of the long-looked-for Messiah, or Christ, the anointed one. The true method of salvation was revealed in its perfectness by Jesus of Nazareth.

Jesus, illumined by the unfailing light of Christ, Truth, worked out in the right way all the problems of human existence. Jesus' life was one of blessedness and blessing. We see in his life unfailing strength, kindness, and justice, purity, tenderness, unlimited wisdom, and intelligence. In his words and deeds he was obeying his divine Principle, God. We see this, for instance, in his well-known Sermon on the Mount. This great sermon contains a comprehensive statement of the simple rules of Christian living. We may see in Christ Jesus' works throughout his ministry a remarkable coincidence with his words as contained in this great sermon, which is full of blessing. We recognize that he reflected the healing power of the divine Mind. His entire life was a revelation of God clearly manifested. Mrs. Eddy, referring to Jesus' achievement, writes in her book, "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 139), "We learn somewhat of the qualities of the divine Mind through the human Jesus."

Because Jesus taught and practiced eternal Truth, his teaching is as applicable to the needs of the present day as it was to the needs of his own day. The same preaching which Jesus gave to his disciples, we declare that the kingdom of heaven is at hand. He illustrated the coming of this kingdom by simple parables, in which, among other things, he commended diligence in business, faithful stewardship. The Master taught and practiced diligence in the Father's business, and he wisely took much time for quiet meditation on the law of God, an example which is followed by man's thoughtful men and women in this present age. Christian Science Reading Rooms afford to busy men and women the opportunity to commune with the divine Mind, the source of true strength and inspiration. Who can estimate what it means to busy people who replenish their lamps with the oil of gladness during the noon hour at these Reading Rooms, and go back to their duties with clarified mentalities to solve the perplexing problems of the day? Christ Jesus states the reward of true watchfulness and diligence in these words: "Blessed are those servants, whom the lord when he cometh shall find watching; verily I say unto you, that he shall gird himself, and make them to sit down to meat, and will come forth and serve them."

We can discern the consummate love exemplified by the appearing of Jesus, and demonstrated in his life. What but infinite divine Love and his expression of it, the disguise from the seeming "mystery of iniquity," and prove its powerlessness, in the light of Truth? As we trace in the gospel records his life of goodness, as we note in the light of Christian Science his words and his works, we understand better the divine Principle upon which those words and works were based. Spiritual growth will continually enlarge our appreciation of Jesus of Nazareth.

Christ When Jesus had been sufficiently purified by his great life work, and entered upon it at the age of thirty years, he was imbued with the Holy Spirit. With this fuller inflow of spiritual light, he was given the new name, Messiah, or Christ, the anointed of God. The Christ was the spiritual selfhood of Jesus, and it was through the power of Christ, Truth, that Jesus performed the mighty works of healing and restoration of which we read in the four Gospels. Jesus, speaking of the Christ, said, "I am the light of the world; he that follows me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life." This Christ, or Truth, was the light which the spiritually-minded had glimpsed in the earliest times. This was the light which Abel, Enoch, Noah, and Abraham discerned. Hence Jesus' words, as he spoke of the Christ, "before Abraham was, I am." Paul speaks of Christ as "the power of God, and the wisdom of God." Jesus' mission on earth was to impart to humanity the understanding of Christ, and thus to redeem men from evil. He taught that man, in reality, is the perfect child of a perfect Father, and therefore not the victim of evil. He said, "Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect."

Christian Science teaches that man's true individuality is the reflection of the divine Mind, the image and likeness of God. This true individuality is spiritual and perfect. Individual character is far more potent, far more real and tangible, than mere corporeality. What is it that you appreciate in your friends? Is it not some quality of thought? The unselfishness, the nobility, the intelligence, the fidelity, which you see expressed by those with whom you are associated—are these qualities material? Obviously not. Do they belong to corporeality? No. Do not such qualities as these truly represent your friends? Yes, assuredly. These mental, moral and spiritual qualities belong to the true individuality of man. How much more tangible and real these qualities are than weight, height, or any other material evidence or condition! Well, it should not be difficult to see that man whom you may have believed to be material, or both material and spiritual, is not material at all but wholly spiritual and mental, and this just what Christian Science teaches. Man is made in the image and likeness of God.

Nothing that is unlovely belongs to the real man. A diamond, when it is discovered in the field or in the mine, is hidden by crude elements. It is, to use a familiar expression, "a diamond in the rough." The expert worker skillfully removes these rough elements, and lo! there may come to light any of the first water, perfect in purity and transparency. The crudities never belong to the diamond. They never affect the diamond, even though they seem temporarily to hide its beauty and to be a part of it. The false elements which seem to hide the real, spiritual man from view do not belong, and never did belong to him. They never touch or affect his true being. They are simply illusions of the material senses. Whether one believes that these false mental qualities are due to heredity, environment, or education, one can get rid of them through the understanding of the truth of being.

The individual who grasps this fact, and becomes busy in working out his salvation, is very watchful that he does not entertain any erroneous concept regarding himself or his fellow man. He habitually strives to gain a fuller understanding of the one divine Mind, and through the uplifted consciousness thus gained he sees that man is the image and likeness of perfect Mind. He discerns in a measure the Science of being. He then rejects any evidence of imperfection regarding himself or another, and refuses to admit that error of any kind belongs to him. Thus he bears witness to the truth. Thus he is learning to love his neighbor as himself. Thus he expresses the Mind of Christ. He is beginning to see that the real man is born of God, and inherits only those qualities which are good and true—an unfailing and eternal birthright. In the light of Truth, errors engendered by false education fade away before the fact that the Mind has never been impaired. To his beloved child ideas of divine Truth and Life and Love. The beliefs of false environment yield as one sees that man always lives and moves and has his being in infinite, divine Mind, wherein man enjoys unlimited possibilities for good. Day by day the shadows of sin, disease, and fear are fleeing before the light. These facts are intensely practical. They become more tangible as we use them.

The God of Abraham, is your God and mine. The light which Abraham glimpsed may come to you and me. That light is the Christ, Truth, to which the Apostle John refers as "the true Light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world." It was this light which came to Mary Baker Eddy when in her time of physical need she turned to God, and was healed. It was this light which guided her in writing the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." This same light, which with healing touch to each one who reads this textbook with humble, receptive thought.

The Discoverer and Founder

Throughout Bible history we note that many a time when God's people were sorely oppressed by their enemies, God raised up a prophet, or one divinely inspired, to accomplish their deliverance. The Scriptures are full of such incidents. Divine Love has richly blessed humanity today by bringing anew the promise of deliverance from evil. It took the discerning insight of true womanhood to discern aright humanity's need today, the need of understanding the Science of the Christy method of healing. Mary Baker Eddy was the one best prepared spiritually to respond to the mandate of good, to do this great and useful work.

Mrs. Eddy was remarkably well fitted for the work she had to do. As a child, she was rightly blessed in having a mother of devout character, and she grew in wisdom and in love for God and man. This fact is evidenced by the poems, written in childhood. These poems show a remarkable degree of spirituality, and they are distinctly prophetic of the great work as a spiritual Leader, which she was to perform in later life. Mrs. Eddy, in her young womanhood, was deeply and actively interested in many reforms. After her return from the South she opened an infants' school which would lead to the nature of kindergarten schools today, and from time to time she substituted in the New Hampshire Conference Seminary during the absence of regular teachers. She also took an active part in the promotion of temperance. It was, in fact, while returning from a temperance meeting that she met with an injury, subsequent recovery from which led her to discover Christian Science, and to give it to the world as true Science.

A number of instances are on record during the latter days of the Christian era, as well as in the earlier days, wherein Christlike characters have experienced healing by spiritual means. Mrs. Eddy's experience, however, is outstanding for this reason, that she was thereby impelled to find out how this healing had been accomplished. In this patient search for a definite understanding of the divine Mind which had healed her, Mrs. Eddy showed a noble consecration to the spiritual ideal to which her life was devoted. She healed through spiritual means alone many cases of supposedly hopeless disease. These practical proofs of the value of the divine Science which she discovered prepared the way for the reception of her book, Science and Health.

Sibyl Wilbur, in "The Life of Mary Baker Eddy," tells of her patience and perseverance in writing the Christian Science textbook, which fully sets forth her discovery. In a small room on Broad street, Lynn, Mrs. Eddy pursued her Scriptural study and research, and finished her manuscript of this book. Her devotion to her ideal was suitably expressed by the framed inscription which adorned the wall of this little room. "I shall have no other gods before me."

Mrs. Eddy wisely discerned the need of an organization to protect and foster the new discovery of spiritual healing. For this reason she established. The Mother Church, the helpful activities of which insure to the seeker for Truth the means of progressing spiritually. The Mother Church, visible among men as the type of universal Truth and Love, is a blessing to all. It stands as an ideal type of self-government, helping those who are ready for this help to enjoy their God-bestowed rights. The establishment of The Mother Church on its sound and permanent basis is a glorious consummation of the plan of divine Love, as reflected by the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science. Mrs. Eddy's work will remain to help and bless all mankind.

It is a memorable day in one's experience when one is awakened to an understanding of God in Christian Science. I well remember my own experience. Having left my home and come to a new country, I found a church of the denomination of which I had already been a member. One Sunday evening in this church a sermon was preached on the subject of Christian Science. Much was said in favor of spiritual healing; and one fact and one above all others Reference was made to an elderly lady who had been invalid for many years. When she read in the Christian Science textbook (Science and Health, p. 2) the words, "God is Love," she arose healed. This made a deep impression on me. Unfortunately for the purpose of the sermon, however, much was said in criticism of our revered Leader, Mrs. Eddy. Immediately things began to happen very quickly in my experience. I found in the public library of that city the Christian Science Sentinel and The Christian Science Journal, the weekly and monthly periodicals of the Christian Science movement, and I was much impressed by the beauty of the thoughts expressed therein. I felt sure that I had found the truth for which I had been looking. I immediately obtained from the Christian Science Reading Room in that city a copy of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, and I am grateful for the rich blessings which have come into my life through studying this book and imbibing in some measure its teachings. This book breathes forth the spirit of Christ, bringing blessings to the earnest reader, correcting and dispelling false beliefs. Like thousands of others I am grateful that Mrs. Eddy was not content merely to enjoy the fruits of this discovery herself, but that she went on with her valiant work as the Founder of the religion of Christian Science, providing for its many activities, including the issuing of the periodicals, through which so many are being led to find the Christian Science textbook, the true Key to the treasures contained in the Bible.

The Bible

One of the first things to impress the beginner in this study is the great love for the Bible which Christian Science awakens. As the student of the Bible, he finds that, in the light thrown upon it by the Christian Science textbook, it becomes a new book to him. If he has not already studied the Bible, he is agreeably surprised to find the wealth of inspiration, comfort, and strength he derives from it. The Bible which Christian Scientists study is the Authorized Version, the King James Version. This book is read in all Christian Science churches in conjunction with Science and Health.

The light which came to patriarch, prophet and apostle has been committed to the later ages through the inspired Word of the Bible. This light could never be wholly extinguished. Even during what have been called the Dark Ages this light was not wholly lost. As time went on, the Bible was translated into English. The invention of the printing press greatly aided the dissemination of this light of Truth imparted by the Bible. Thus the Bible came into the hands of the common people who then, as in the time of Jesus, heard the Word gladly. The Word of God speaks to us through the Bible. As we study the Scriptures to gain their spiritual meaning, we commune with God, acquaint ourselves with the divine Mind, and so gain true peace. Paul, in writing to the youthful Timothy, says, "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works."

Many daily newspapers today are freely publishing quotations from the Bible. Some newspapers are doing this every day. This is, indeed, good news. Wherever the Bible is read aright it brings a fuller measure of light and spiritual progress. Men, women, and children, rich and poor, the educated and the uneducated, find therein light and liberty for release from the bondage of the flesh. Speaking of the Bible, Mrs. Eddy writes in her book "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 363), "The Bible is the learned man's masterpiece, the ignorant man's dictionary, the wise man's directory."

Prayer

In the experience of every individual there comes the time when he is awakened to a keener desire to know God better and to express the reality of man's being. Whether this desire comes sooner or later it comes inevitably, and then the individual has begun to pray aright; he has begun to utilize divine power. Jesus said, "If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you." Here is the basis of effective prayer. Thus man comes to the wall of the little room. Do Christian Scientists pray? Yes, unceasingly. The Christianly scientific prayer is one of humility and love. Mrs. Eddy tells how Christian Scientists pray when she writes in Science and Health (p. 15) these words: "Christians rejoice in secret beauty and bounty, hidden from the world, but known to God. Self-forgetfulness, purity, and affection are constant prayers. Practice, not profession, understanding and belief, gain the ear of the hand of omnipotence and they assuredly call down infinite blessings."

True prayer cannot be used to accomplish an evil purpose. It can be properly used only to do good. If one should attempt to pray to God, who is infinite good, to injure a fellow being, such a mistaken individual would be simply injuring himself. Anyone who would attempt to pray with any other motive than that of blessing and helping mankind, is asking, and such prayer is powerless and fruitless. True prayer always blesses, uplifts, purifies, and heals. When Jesus and his disciples were on their way to Jerusalem, where Jesus was about to give his final proof of the powerlessness of malice, envy, and hate to destroy him or his work, this little band of early Christians approached a village of Samaria. We read in the Gospel of Luke that the Samaritans of this village did not receive Jesus hospitably. The disciples, not yet fully awakened to the Christliness of Jesus' healing message, said to their Master, "Lord, wilt thou that we command fire to come down from heaven, and consume them, even as Elias did?" But Jesus turned and rebuked his disciples, saying: "Ye know not what manner of spirit ye are of. For the Son of man is not come to destroy men's lives, but to save them."

Healing

The healings effected today by Christian Science are similar to those performed by spiritual power in the early days of the Christian era. Christian healing, as practiced in Christian Science, is more widespread today than in any other period of the world's history. It is clearly the function of the Christian church to carry on the apostolic work of healing the sick through spiritual power, and the Church of Christ, Scientist, is performing this vital function. Daily, hourly, throughout the world, wherever the Church of Christ, Scientist—The Mother Church and its branches—is established, this healing, redemptive work goes steadily on.

Time and time again I have seen cases of supposedly hopeless disease healed instantaneously, as this light of divine Truth as revealed in Christian Science has dawned upon the thought of sufferers. Those who have been enslaved by liquor, opium, and other phases of vice have found freedom through the Christ-power. Invalids, who have spent weary months and years in seemingly hopeless invalidism, have risen from their beds well, even when they were believed to be in "the valley of the shadow of death." These results are being continually repeated in the practice of Christian Science. In the experience of those who are healed by Christian Science, their use being fulfilled today in large measure the promise given by God through the prophet Malachi: "Unto you that fear my name shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings."

How is this healing wrought? How may each one utilize and enjoy this healing power? These questions are best answered by a careful study of Science and Health. People are being healed every day by reading this book. They are helped by the Christ-spirit which pervades this volume, and they find that their burdens are dropping away, and they are enabled to understand man's true being, which is ever harmonious. One gains light and liberty by turning thought to God and rejoicing in man's unity with God.

Among the many healings resulting from the reading of Science and Health, which have come to my attention, is the following, related to me by a good friend of mine. He had been a successful lawyer in one of America's large cities, but he had become addicted to the use of liquor and drugs. His distress resulting from enslavement to these habits, he was tempted to end what he believed to be his life. He decided, however, at this time to go to a Christian Science Reading Room, where he found Science and Health. He read in this book until he came to these words of Mrs. Eddy, on page 250: "Man is not God, but like a ray of light which comes from the sun, man, the outcome of God, reflects God." He was instantaneously healed of the desire to use drugs. A few weeks later, as he continued to study Science and Health, he was healed of the desire for liquor. He found a new joy in living. These healings proved to be permanent.

Christian Science presents the fundamental fact that God is All-in-all, and that man is God's image and likeness. The practice of Christian Science is the intelligent utilization of this fact in the life, in the nature, and in the details of living. You can see, then, that Christian Science is essentially Christian and scientific, in the true sense of the term. Christian Science dispels discord with the light of spiritual truth, and thus immortal man, the only man there is in reality, comes to light. Christian Science is not associated in any way with and bears no resemblance to hypnotism, mesmerism, or theosophy. The only influence Christian Science acknowledges is the influence of the unerring divine Mind; the only wisdom, the wisdom of God. Through Christian Science practice, harmonious results are realized in proportion as thought is in accord with the eternal law of God. True thought proceeds from the divine Mind, God. It is ever harmonious. It is ever active. It manifests, indeed, the ceaseless activity of the divine Mind, from which it emanates. Christian Science imparts true spirituality. The real man is the product of God's creative power, and he exists eternally as perfect as God made him. As patriarch, prophet, and apostle have beheld this truth in the Science of being, and realized man's unity with God, they have been endowed with the Holy Ghost.

Christian Science makes clear the allness of divine Mind, and the nothingness of matter. If there are those who believe matter to be solid, tangible, and substantial, it may be a great relief to them to know that even natural scientists do not regard matter in this way. Of all the thousands who have engaged in the close study of Science to find out what matter is, not one has ever been able to announce a positive or conclusive fact to prove the existence of matter. The simple reason is that matter is unreal, nonexistent in Truth.

Medical theories which were accepted by many a few years ago have been discarded today as useless. Some time ago a physician told me that his costly library of medical books was worth less than five or ten years. Such is the value of speculations regarding matter, and of descriptions of the supposed properties of matter! Many conscientious medical men, seeing the disappointing results of material means, are becoming increasingly receptive to spiritual truth; their thoughts are turning to a degree dematerialized and spiritualized. Such medical men freely acknowledge the beneficial results of Christian Science. A number of them are becoming Christian Scientists. When this physician told me of the expected decrease in value of his medical library, I could not help contrasting this with the priceless and enduring value of the Christian Science textbooks, the Bible and Science and Health and Mrs. Eddy's other writings. The truths contained in these inexpensive volumes are becoming more clearly seen day by day and more fully demonstrated. These truths will stand when speculations regarding matter have passed into oblivion.

One may say: Well, if matter is unreal, what about this universe? What about the men and women whom we see? Do you mean to say that this universe does not exist? Oh, no, it is to material sense that the universe appears to be material, but the real universe, God's universe, is wholly spiritual. It is here now, and is far more beautiful than what is seen materially. God's man is here and he is real and substantial. As we gain the true spiritual standpoint, we see God's universe and man. Let us consider a simple illustration. A man was going down to his office one morning. His heart was heavy and sad. As he went, he gained a new standpoint. He became confident of success. Immediately his step became sprightly; he noticed the sunshine, and heard the song of the birds. He met with friends whose ready smile met with his glad response. The sun had been already shining, the birds had been singing, his friends greeting him. But he had not been alert to notice them. Now his own mental attitude had changed, and everything looked different. Probably everyone in this audience has had an experience of this kind. One's own mental attitude has a direct bearing on what one sees and hears and how one sees and hears it. Let us carry this illustration still further. We have Scriptural authority for knowing that God, Spirit, has created all. Since God could make nothing unlike Himself, it is plain that God's universe must express Him; that is, it must be spiritual. Christian Science, instructing us in this fact, opens up new possibilities of thought. Doubtless everyone in this audience loves to view the beauties of nature, the cloud effects, the rainbow, the rising and setting sun. As you do so, it is possible to look beyond the material appearance and through spiritual sense behold what God has made, to discern the realities of nature which these beauties of nature symbolize. Then you are catching a glimpse of the truth of spiritual being.

Abraham's Chaldean countrymen defied the sun and the moon and the stars. Abraham departed from that pagan worship when he discerned the one true God. At one time God had led Abraham forth and said to him, "Look now toward heaven, and tell (count) the stars, if thou be able to number them;" and continuing, God said, "So shall thy seed be." May we not conclude that God was giving to Abraham a helpful lesson as to the infinitude of God's universe and man? Is it any wonder that Abraham enjoyed God's affluence in his affairs? As we understand the infinitude, the spirituality of God's universe and man, limitations will drop off, and we shall prove more fully our possibilities as children of God. As yet we have just begun to do this, but it is well to see the possibilities, and to work patiently on, trusting God to show us the way.

God's universe is spiritual. The mistake is with mortals, who wrongly believe that it is material. Mortals, viewing the universe materially, conceive that it is of a destructive nature, and they theorize about its destructiveness. Nevertheless, spring continues to follow winter; green leaves shoot forth from bush and tree; seedlings spring from the earth, providing food for man and beast. These phenomena cannot be explained on a purely material basis. They never have been explained thus. We are nearing the true explanation, as we recognize that the true concept of Life! Does infinite Mind express itself in the divine Mind's law of ceaseless growth and development is manifested.

Viewing the universe and man from a material standpoint, mortals have concluded that sickness, sin, and death are inevitable. Christian Science, with its simple explanation of God's universe and man as spiritual, strips the mask from these illusions. God never sent nor authorized sin, sickness, and death. This truth destroys these errors, and brings to light the beauty of holiness, health, and life everlasting. He made man upright, immortal, harmonious, free, joyous, well; and His man remains as He created him, even advancing to a higher enjoyment of God's goodness. Paul, writing to the Christians at Corinth, says, "God is not the author of confusion, but of peace."

When Moses was about to lead the children of Israel out of Egyptian bondage, he saw a bush which burned, but was not consumed—a type, surely, of the indestructible nature of true substance. He then heard the voice of God saying, "I am the God of . . . Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob." In later centuries Christ Jesus spoke of this experience of Moses, bringing home the lesson that man is deathless by saying, after referring to the God of Abraham, of Isaac, and of Jacob, "He is not a God of the dead, but of the living: for all live unto him." It was generally believed that Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob were dead, yet here Christ Jesus referred to them as alive. He brought home this priceless lesson in true being still further in his parable in which he told of two men, one of whom was very poor in this world's goods, and the other very rich. When they passed from this plane, the rich man was depicted as suffering torment. The poor man, rich in faith, was described as being in Abraham's bosom, near to the state of thought that Abraham exemplified. Christ Jesus, who has told us these facts, understood Life aright. He knew how to raise people from the dead, and to raise himself from the dead. He knew how to depict exactly the facts of being, which to many of us have seemed hard to understand.

There is no sin, no disease, no sorrow so deeply rooted but divine Love can eradicate it, because of the infinite depth of Love. Man's being is at one with divine Love. From everlasting to everlasting, man is and has been an ever-existing, nothing dead, nor held securely in the embrace of the eternal Mind, safe in Science. No evil, therefore, has ever befallen God's child, who is made in His own image. All the evil that seems to be, or to have been, is in the so-called realm of mortal mind, whereas there never has been any such thing in the realm of immortal Mind, the kingdom of heaven, the only realm there is, in reality. Paul says, "I am persuaded that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord."

Through the helpful ministrations of Christian Science, a new ideal has come, not only to those of mature years, but also to the youth of the present day. We are seeing the fulfillment of the prophecy of Joel: "It shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, and your young men shall see visions; and also upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my spirit." So young people, today, are having the opportunity to catch the vision of Truth as revealed in Christian Science, and so to express strength and purity in thought and life, finding thus a higher happiness and success. While conditions at present apparent in the world require the earnest thought of every thinking man and woman, can we not see a bow of radiant promise? Youth is being encouraged and enabled by Christian Science to utilize the might of divine Mind, thus gaining true liberty, that liberty which is found in being good and in doing good.

Education is being enriched today by a new factor, the understanding of spiritual reality imparted by Christian Science. This spiritual method, based on the understanding of the one Mind, divine consciousness, is much more practical and effectual than material systems. This new spiritual ideal is enabling those of the rising generation to live happily and helpfully in the present and to grow to manhood and womanhood expressing a higher order of intelligence, a greater degree of nobility of character, a fuller measure of usefulness in this busy, active, upward-striving age. Children are today gaining in Christian Science a love for God's law, and so learning more of man's higher nature. While there is in educational activities, of one hand, a materialistic trend, there is, on the other, a growing tendency to give heed to the divine law. This is indicated by the passing of an act in North Dakota a few years ago, which requires that the Ten Commandments shall be displayed in every public school room in that state. We find, furthermore, a widespread reading of the Scriptures in schools. We find it in university fraternities and sororities.

Christian Science is not merely "another denomination." It is not "just another sect." Christian Science is the law of Life. When this is seen, the term "Christian Science" will never be used lightly. Words are symbols of thought. The words may be easily spoken, but care and attention are required in order that the thought may be comprehended. How easy it is to speak the word "life!" How vast is the true concept of Life! Does it not take much patience, watchfulness, and love to understand Life? Our relations with our fellow men give us continual opportunities to use what we understand of Life, God, and of man, who is the true expression of Life. What happens it gives us when we see in the simple affairs of daily living the proof that a valuable rule of Life has been properly applied!

What a blessing it is to know that God's law is ever available to solve the problems of human existence! As we each cast out of thought unjust criticism, suspicion, fear, hatred, anger, impurity, impatience, and every false sense that may claim to find judgment there, remembering that these are not realities, but merely beliefs, then angels come and minister unto us, and we find our lives becoming more harmonious. Our useful work is less hampered, our helpfulness greatly enhanced. This is the practice of true forgiveness. This is essential to Christian healing and living. Here we see the change that Christian Science is making in individual character and life, so far as this teaching is faithfully applied. It enters into all the details of one's life, strengthening all that is good, and insuring the success of all righteous endeavor.

One of our hymns says (Christian Science Hymnal, No. 51): "God's will is done; His kingdom come; The Father's work is plain. The longing to be noonday true Has brought the light again. And man does stand as God's own child, The image of His love. Let gladness ring from every tongue, And heaven and earth approve."

Lions Club Hears Government Talk

GARDEN GROVE, Sept. 20. — Homer C. Chaney, of Santa Ana, president of the county council of Lions clubs addressed the local Lions club at the noonday luncheon Wednesday in the Blue Bird cafe. The club went on record as unanimously endorsing the flood control and water conservation bond election to be voted on October 4. President Charles Simpson announced that Carl Harvey, of Brea, district governor of Lions clubs, will be the speaker at next week's meeting.

World Series Mania Grips Chicago

Louis To Enter Ring 2-1 Choice Over Baer

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Joe Louis probably will enter the ring a 2-1 favorite to defeat Max Baer, according to odds quoted today.

The fight promises to be one of the biggest betting affairs in history. Despite sales of Baer money which showed throughout the nation in the last week, and thousands of bets made at odds ranging from 9-5 to 7-5, there was such a flood of Louis money on the market today that the quotations must lengthen in favor of Louis.

That's the opinion of Jack Doyle, veteran Broadway commissioner, and Oswald Newton, Harlem betting man.

Newton said he couldn't get Baer money unless he offers more than 3-2 "and Louis money is just pouring in—there isn't anything to stop Joe going into that ring less than a 2-1 favorite."

Doyle, who has handled fight bets since 1892, when Corbett upset Sullivan, said he'd never seen so much betting. He predicted the odds would lengthen, favoring Louis, especially Tuesday "when a wagon load of smart money will be bet on Joe." The "big boys," he said, "are waiting to make certain Joe enters the ring without any cuts or hand injuries."

Doyle's book showed the following odds:

1-2 against Louis winning.
8-5 against Baer winning.
2-1 against Louis knocking out Baer.

Even money against bout going limit.
10-1 against either man scoring a one-round knockout.
5-1 against either man scoring a two-round knockout.

The preliminary card for the fight Tuesday has been completed. Max's brother, "Buddy," will fight Ford Smith of Montana in the six-round semi-final. Hank Hankinson, Los Angeles, will fight Eddie Macer, New York, in another six.

BAER QUILTS IF HIPPS REPEATS LOSS WINNER OVER HERBERA: OF BIG FIGHT GOBS TRIUMPH

SPECULATOR, N. Y., Sept. 20.—(UP)—Max Baer is going home to California, never to don a boxing glove again, if he loses to Joe Louis.

"If I lose this fight, it's 'California Here I Come,'" Maxie said. "I won't ever fight again."

Baer now weighs 211 pounds and is in better shape than he was for his unsuccessful title defense against Jimmy Braddock.

"His hands appear to be stronger than when he entered the ring against Braddock," Dr. William H. Walker, boxing commission physician, said after giving Max a thorough examination. "All in all, in my opinion, Max is ready to meet Louis next Tuesday in excellent condition."

In actual training routine, however, Max is puzzling the fight experts by his new style of fighting from a shell. He says he will fight Louis that way.

His mental condition also has the boys guessing. He takes a good fight, looks in magnificent condition, and undoubtedly is. But many times he prefaces remarks with "If I lose." He wasn't that at his other camps.

He probably will go through a stiff session with the gloves today and then taper off tomorrow with a light workout.

Once again last night the United States Navy demonstrated its versatility, firing three big guns in the persons of Sailor Hipps, Sailor Dye and Sailor Bowen right at the ranks of Orange County Athletic club boxers for three wins.

The Hipps-Frankie Herrera rematch was another "hot" fight, although Herrera didn't look as good this time in dropping the decision. Awkward enough to make most of his opponent look bad, Herrera wadded in, kept trying, but was unable to cope with Hipps' right hand.

One of those rights caught Frankie in the fourth, putting him down for a nine count, and clinching for Hipps a fight, which had been fairly close up to that point.

The feature fight, as had been expected, was the Lupe Cordoza-Gil Lopez battle, which went to the hard-hitting Cordoza on a decision. Lopez put up a whale of a scrap against the Southern Pacific A. A. U. bantamweight champ, but was outclassed. Biggest surprise was Cordoza's failure to put over a knockout punch, which seemed imminent throughout the fight.

Sailor Bowen, flashy U. S. S. Pensacola fighter, won his second O. C. A. C. fight in two weeks when he demolished Eddie Martinez of Wilmington in a blistering battle. Martinez, a better fighter than Ed Orsco, who lost to Bowen last week, made the going tough every minute, but Bowen captured the nod for keeping on top of his man all the way.

The evening was considerably enlivened by a torrential downpour which threatened to drop the dripping roof on the heads of the customers. Bleacherites scampered to safety as the canvas admitted beau coup moisture, and the Martinez-Bowen fight was temporarily halted while Referee Bob White salted down the canvas with resin so the boys could keep their feet. The freak storm, which affected no other parts of the county, failed to dampen the ardor of the paying guests.

The special event between Jack Wolford and Sailor Dye, phlegmatic heavyweights, proved a dull affair. Dye failed to show the class he had last week, and the bout was dulled with too much clinching and stalling. Dye's decision.

Other results: Jackie Dolan lost to Danny Ramirez on a technical knockout in the fourth; Art Hernandez got sore and slugged Ray Gonzales between the second and third rounds, losing on a foul; Clyde Wallis defeated Manuel Lupon, and Tino Munoz defeated Jim Dolan.

EATING AND SLEEPING; THAT'S LOUIS PROGRAM

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., Sept. 20.—(UP)—Joe Louis' training program has settled down to his two favorite pastimes—eating and sleeping.

The Detroit Negro, already brought to a fine edge, won't box again until tomorrow when he will stage his final workout.

Yesterday he took a six-mile jaunt and then went to bed. Today his program is expected to be the same.

He spent practically the entire day in bed yesterday and his only public appearance lasted two minutes. That was when he came out in a plaid dressing gown and pencil-striped pajamas and watched a billiard game briefly. Then he went back to bed.

He will sleep seven or eight hours Saturday and remain here until Tuesday morning, motoring to New York in time for the weigh-in. He expects to scale 200 pounds in the ring.

CUBS SHARPEN BATTLING EYES ON "OFF-DAY"

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Those amazing youngsters, the Cubs, who a month ago were just another baseball team, today had the town afflicted with world series mania.

Striking toward the National league pennant with 16 consecutive victories, the Cubs have drawn crowds of near-world series size in the last four wins over the Giants. Paid attendance for the four games was 121,101, or better than 30,000 persons daily.

World series tickets for public sale Sept. 20 or Oct. 1 if the Cubs win the pennant. Club officials said several thousand regular patrons would get tickets immediately by mail but that time would not permit handling of general reservations by mail.

Grimm Orders Swat Practice

The Cubs had an off-day today so Charley Grimm gave them a two-hour batting practice to keep their eyes sharpened. Pittsburgh plays here Saturday and Sunday. Because of the off-day, officials announced that Saturday would be Ladies' Day, which probably will mean that several thousand cash customers will have to be turned away.

The Cubs are superstitious. Most of the players are wearing the same uniforms in which they started the winning streak. Manager Grimm pounded the sixteenth nail into his shoe yesterday. He has one for each straight victory.

The players were frantic when their manager, 15-year-old Paul (Fatty) Domick failed to show up at the start of the game. Paul joined the team the day the winning streak started and his head has always been rubbed for luck. Paul arrived breathless from school in the third inning and everything was right from then on.

Cub Pitchers Invincible

When Bill Lee defeated the Giants yesterday he was the fifteenth pitcher to start and finish a game since the home sport started. Charley Root was replaced by Roy Henshaw in the eighth inning Sept. 14 after being pounded for nine runs. The Cubs won that game from Brooklyn, 18 to 14.

The pennant dash actually started when the Cubs won the last game of a double-header from Philadelphia Aug. 21. Including that victory, they have won 24 out of 28.

The Cards, hanging on 2 1-2 games behind, have been forced to depend on the Dean brothers, who have appeared in 16 of the last 19 games.

The schedule also favors the Cubs. They have two games with Pittsburgh, one each tomorrow and Sunday, and then are idle until Wednesday, when they open the final five games of the season at Louisville. The Cards have 10 games left and need to win their next five if they are to have a fighting chance.

JONES HAMMERS ON S. C. FUNDAMENTALS

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—Fundamentals and then more fundamentals—such is the training program of Coach Howard Jones and his assistants as they put 108 candidates for the U. S. C. football team through twice-a-day workouts this week in preparation for the Trojan 1935 comeback.

Competition for places on the rebuilt Trojan eleven is bringing about a series of stirring individual battles. Except for his moving Robert (Pinky) MacMoore and Ed Shuey ahead of Ray Brosseau and Bob Sanders at guard, Jones has kept the original first string with McNish leads off with a lineup studied with former lower division and transfer stars. At left end is dusky Ralph Riddle, a clever passer who last year was voted "most valuable" player on the lower division team. McNish has been using another former lower division luminary, 187-pound Johnny McDonough, at left tackle.

In the center of the line the Bulldogs have three huskies who promise to give Santa Ana's forward wall plenty of trouble. Thompson, left guard; Chelisa Bevins, 186-pound center; and 195-pound Bob Patterson, right guard; form a trio of truculent behemoths. McNish has been favoring Calvin Krienke, who prepped at Ventura, for the right tackle post while right end has been conceded Bill McElroy.

The Bulldog backfield promises to easily outweigh the Don quartet. Clarence Ward, quarter; Ray Kuhn, who calls signals at left half; Ed Falkard, outside half who weighs 190 and stands six-foot-three; and dusky Marvin Wright, 200-pound fullback; shape up as McNish's starting foursome. Wright's specialty is shooting "dixie" Howell-like passes to the sticky-fingered Riddle.

The Dons will wear their blue jerseys for the inaugural while Pasadena will be attired in red jerseys with white numbers.

OILERS, COLTON OPEN SOU. CAL. TITLE SERIES

Favored to make it another short, sweet victory for the National league, the champion Oilers go into Colton tonight for the first of a seven-game series with the two-time winners of the rival American division.

The Southern California association championship awaits the winner.

Louie Neva and Venn Botts, ace pitchers of their sections, will be the mound opponents as they were two years ago when Neva was with Torrance and Botts at Rialto. Neva won that series for Torrance with an inferior lineup, and figures to breeze in behind the powerful Huntington Beach batting order.

Only twice has the American league won the Southern California playoff. Riverside whipped Long Beach in 1928 and Colton edged Santa Ana in 1931, both series going seven games. Since '32, Anaheim, Torrance and Huntington Beach have stopped the Islanders as they played.

Second and third games of the current playoffs will be held next week. Tuesday's contest being scheduled at Huntington Beach.

WARN SHOOTERS ON CALIF. DOVE LAWS

Game law enforcement agents advised Orange county hunters today that dove hunting regulations would be enforced strictly in the season which opens Saturday.

Attention was called to four regulations effective during the season. They are:

1. The bag limit is 15 per day, 30 per week.
2. Shooting hours will be between 7 a. m. and sunset.
3. The season closes Sept. 30 in all districts except districts four, four and one-half, and four and three-quarters, where the last day will be Oct. 31. (Orange county is in No. 4.)
4. The three-shot shotgun regulation will apply.

The present Trojan first stringers and their weights are as follows: ends, "Chuck" Williams, 185, and Bill Gaisford, 185; tackles, Ellwood Jorgensen, 220, and Bruce Hull, 215; guards, Robert MacMoore, 185, and Ed Shuey, 214; Dave Davis, 165; halfbacks, Owen Hansen, 184, and Jack Clark, 174, and fullback, Cliff Propst, 178.

The Seals saw their margin reduced yesterday when they divided a doubleheader with Seattle, while the Reds were taking their third straight from Hollywood.

The pace-setters faced another doubleheader tonight, then a single game Saturday and a double bill Sunday. The Missions had one less game to play, with single contests today and Saturday and the twin bill Sunday to wind up the season.

SLASH SEALS' LEAD IN COAST LOOP BALL

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—The San Francisco Seals led the Mission Reds by only two games today in their race to the wire in the Pacific Coast league pennant chase.

The Seals saw their margin reduced yesterday when they divided a doubleheader with Seattle, while the Reds were taking their third straight from Hollywood.

The pace-setters faced another doubleheader tonight, then a single game Saturday and a double bill Sunday. The Missions had one less game to play, with single contests today and Saturday and the twin bill Sunday to wind up the season.

Cook To Test Every Player On Big Squad

With a cast new almost from stem to stern, Santa Ana junior college embarks on its 1935 football season at the Municipal Bowl tonight, meeting Coach Bob McNish's Pasadena Bulldogs, another "new" team, at 8 o'clock.

Both go into the fray in an untried state with only two weeks of practice and the personnel of each squad is made up mostly of first-year men who have yet to experience their first game of college football.

As both Cook and McNish are graduates of Southern California and disciples of the Howard Jones system, tonight's game will have a distinct Trojan flavor with quick-kicks and off-tackle slants playing a prominent part. McNish was a star halfback for Jones on one of his National Champions while Cook played quarterback the year the "head man" took over the reins at S. C. nearly a decade ago.

With Bill Cook vowing to use every available man on the squad, tonight's tilt promises to be a scorekeeper's nightmare. Although the opening lineup is the lightest to represent Santa Ana jaysee in three years, it probably will prove to be the speediest. As Cook's starting eleven contains only two lettermen, Don followers will find it helpful to clip the following to help them identify the players:

First team
Left end—Bob Spray, 170-pound six-footer who played center at Tustin.
Left tackle—Clarence Bolton, towering 300-pounder who was an end on Santa Ana high school's 1932 championship team.
Center—Harold Yuel, returning letterman.
Right guard—Art Craft, chunky lineman from Orange.
Right tackle—Ray Devine, 178-pound brother of Walt Devine of the 1933 Don champions. From Garden Grove.
Right end—Al Titensor, member of last fall's Saints.
Center—Herbert, clever field general from Fullerton high.
Inside half—Allen Lamb, stocky guard and quarter from the Seals.
Outside half—John Lehnardt, fullback from Garden Grove.
Fullback—Veteran Walt Hickman, 190-lb. last fall won all-Coast honors.

Second team
Left tackle—Carl Benson, 190-pounder from Tustin.
Left guard—L. C. DeMet, 180-pounder who last season won all-Coast honors.
Center—Bill Shields, 180-pound freshman from Tustin, or Major Mosman, Anaheim's all-county guard.
Right guard—Nelson Rogers, 190-pound letterman.
Right tackle—Hendrie, fleet halfback from the Saints' 33 eleven.
Quarter—Oliver McCarter, all-county back from Orange, or Major Anderson, speedy letterman.
Inside half—Ralph Comstock, letterman who also was used at fullback.
Outside half—Byron Nell, regular Saint back last season.
Fullback—Letterman Dick Moore, 160 pounds.

'BABE' RISKO AGAIN WINS FROM YAROSZ

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 20.—(UP)—As far as this county is concerned, "Babe" Risko, ex-gob from Syracuse, is world middleweight champion.

Risko won the title last night with a 15-round decision over Teddy Yarosz of Monaca, Pa., who only this week has been listed as champion by the National Boxing association.

Yaros, knocked out by Risko last New Year's day at Scranton in a non-title affair, severely injured the second cartilage of his right knee after being floored in the fourth round. He was knocked down twice for counts of eight afterwards and managed only by gameness to last the distance.

Echeverria, Dano Clash At Legion

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Pilo Echeverria, 22-year-old boxer Basque, makes his American debut against Pablo Dano, tough Filipino bantam, here tonight.

The shock-headed Echeverria, who has a victory over "Baby" Armizendi to his credit, was picked up in Spain as an apprentice bull fighter by Manolo Brana three years ago and brought to Cuba.

'Y' Basketball Schedule To Open Oct. 21

Only two franchises remain unclaimed today in the two Commercial and Church leagues which will function at the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. this winter. These will go to the first teams able to meet entrance requirements, Secretary R. C. Smedley said.

Starting their seasons October 21, both leagues will be composed of six teams. The Woolen Mills, Shell Oil company, Union Oil company and the Costa Mesa Food Basket already are entering in the Commercial circuit, while the Latter Day Saints, South Methodists, First Christians and St. Peter's Lutherans are enrolled in the Church conference.

Two Commercial games will be played every Tuesday and one each Wednesday, with one Church game on Wednesday and two Thursdays. October 1 will be the deadline for entering. Managers meet that night to draft a schedule and prepare eligibility rules.

'BABE' RISKO AGAIN WINS FROM YAROSZ

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 20.—(UP)—As far as this county is concerned, "Babe" Risko, ex-gob from Syracuse, is world middleweight champion.

Risko won the title last night with a 15-round decision over Teddy Yarosz of Monaca, Pa., who only this week has been listed as champion by the National Boxing association.

Yaros, knocked out by Risko last New Year's day at Scranton in a non-title affair, severely injured the second cartilage of his right knee after being floored in the fourth round. He was knocked down twice for counts of eight afterwards and managed only by gameness to last the distance.

Echeverria, Dano Clash At Legion

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Pilo Echeverria, 22-year-old boxer Basque, makes his American debut against Pablo Dano, tough Filipino bantam, here tonight.

The shock-headed Echeverria, who has a victory over "Baby" Armizendi to his credit, was picked up in Spain as an apprentice bull fighter by Manolo Brana three years ago and brought to Cuba.

SANTA ANA JAYSEE NOW AN ORANGE COUNTY INSTITUTION

No longer a poor, abused step-child, the Dons pay the lid off their season tonight recognized as the favorite son of Santa Ana football.

A combination of arolights, attractive schedules and successful teams has brought the junior college right up into the front row, and there it should remain indefinitely—certainly as long as the trilogy exists.

This year's itinerary is the best the best college ever has offered its constituents. After tonight's contest with Pasadena the Dons have successive after-dinner engagements here with Pomona college, U. S. C. freshmen, Riverside, Citrus and Chaffey. Then comes a trip to San Bernardino, followed by another nocturnal contest with the U. C. L. A. frosh; later Pomona jaysee at Pomona, Fullerton here Thanksgiving Day.

Nothing indicates the trend toward jaysee football like that of all barometers—the box office. The income has increased year by year. Last fall the Dons crossed $4912. In '33 the take was $4681. These, of course, were championship seasons but I flatly predict the golden harvest will exceed $5000 this semester.

In reality, Santa Ana junior college no longer is Santa Ana junior college. It is virtually an Orange county institution, drawing loyal athletes, students and fans from almost every community in the district. More than half the football squad registers from prep schools other than Santa Ana.

TO ROOF FIGHT ARENA

Last night's shower acted as a shot in the arm to Promoter Sam Sampson of the Orange County Athletic club. . . . That permanent roof which Sampson had planned for many months is all but up. . . . work will start immediately and the arena will be covered within a month. . . . no less than four grand ($4000 to you) will go into making the club one of the finest arenas in the Southland. . . .

When Lupe Cordoza was introduced by Announcer Ray McDough last night, "Pop" Andre, Sampson's assistant in making matches, who was seconding Cordoza, became excited and took a bow simultaneously with Cordoza. . . . they get that way. . . . Johnny Martinez, the Long Beach Mexican heavyweight who hasn't boxed in almost a year, was introduced. . . . Martinez will start a comeback at the 161 highway club next month. . . .

"Bud" Holzner will box at the O. C. A. C. two weeks from last night. . . . Did you know plans were afoot by the Fullerton American Legion to hold boxing and wrestling but when the promoter laid down his cards the Legion boys backed away from the deal?

GIRDIRON BRIEFS

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES—Ted Key, hard-plunging fullback injured during practice this week, will return to the U. C. L. A. squad within a few days, Coach Bill Spaulding announced.

LOS ANGELES—Gil Kuhn, first string center, saved his U. C. L. A. varsity mates from defeat in a practice game yesterday by intercepting a pass and running 51 yards for a touchdown. The score was 21-0 in favor of the eleven, 6-3. The Trojan second team smothered the fourth squad, 42-0, in another contest arranged by Howard Jones.

LOS ANGELES—"Dixie" Howell, hero of the 1935 Rose Bowl game, led a University of Mexico football squad of 25 athletes into Los Angeles yesterday to battle Occidental College Saturday. Howell said he had a good team but his men lacked experience.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY—Bobby Grayson, universal choice for All America football last season, is carrying a bandage on his left leg and is limping as the result of a pulled muscle he sustained while starting Coast conference champion until his injury heals.

BERKELEY—Maurice (Mushy) Folkl, best known for his exploits on the cinderpath last spring, is a half-back candidate on the California football squad. The San Diego sprinter played football in prep school and yesterday was seen in action in California's first backfield.

MORAGA—"Slip" Madigan is taking no chances of having Nevada repeat its surprise victory over his St. Mary's eleven this year. Workouts on the Moraga campus are more strenuous than usual as the wily Grayson mentor drives his squad toward their opening game, the Nevada clash, Sept. 29.

PULLMAN, Wash.—Washington State has four players who will bid for all-time glory in the All-American recognition this fall. Topping them all is Ed Goddard, backfield ace. Stan Smith, center from Texas, is not far behind in ability.

CORVALLIS, Ore.—Jack Woerner, 180-pounder who played guard last year, may call signals for Oregon State against Linfield Saturday. Coach Len Stiner has been directing Woerner in the business of drilling players.

SEATTLE—Ted Markov has won a varsity berth at tackle on Jimmy Pielan's University of Washington lineup. Markov's earnest play in practice moved him into Jack Mackenzie's place on the Huskies' line.

THE TWYMITE

Story by HAL COCHRAN

Pictures by GEORGE SCARBO

When Scouty'd thumped the old drum a while, wee Duncy shouted with a smile. "Hey, let me be the player who sends strange sounds through the air."

"My rhythm, I am sure, it right, and I will thump with all my might. I only hope I won't give both the girls an awful scare."

"Don't worry," Dotty snapped, "cause we are just as brave as you, you see. There's nothing you could do, lad, that would bring us any fright."

"You're always bragging of your stunts. Why don't you do a good one?"

"Once? We'll gladly let you thump the drum. It might turn out all right."

An Indian then exclaimed, "Well, say, we've had enough noise for one day. Right now the sun is sinking low, and night soon will be here."

"Each Tiny is a sleepy head. I would suggest you go to bed. We'll fix you up with dandy tents."

and there'll be naught to fear." "Aw, I'm not sleepy," Copy cried. "I'd really rather stay outside a little while, and watch the moon rise high o'er yonder hill."

"Now, here's a plan I think is grand. Each Twymite will lend a hand to gather wood. We'll build a fire, so we won't get a chill!"

"A great big campfire! Say, that's great," an Indian said. "You Twymites wait right here. I'll get the wood myself. There is a pile nearby."

He brought it forth and everyone began to pile it up. 'Twas fun. It wasn't very long until flames rose up toward the sky.

Soon Duncy said, "Come on, let's sing. I'll join you all in anything." Then Duncy answered, "You and I will entertain the rest."

Their little voices then rang out, and it was fine, without a doubt. "Hurray for you," cried Scouty. "You have done your very best!"

Marble Games Opposed By Fourth District P.-T. A.

PROGRAM HELD AT BUENA PARK ATTRACTS 200

A resolution placing the fourth district P.-T. A. on record as being opposed to the continued operation of marble games and other petty gambling devices, and urging the board of supervisors to take steps to control the matter, was passed at the association school of instruction opened yesterday in Buena Park Congregational church.

Two hundred members were in attendance as the group convened, under the direction of Mrs. W. T. Kivren, Garden Grove. One other formal resolution commended the stand for peace taken by President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull.

The meeting was opened by a welcoming speech from Mrs. Kivren, who outlined parent-teacher objectives, and asked for continued support of the association. Mrs. Mabel Spizzy conducted a short musical program and outlined plans for a mother's chorus in Anaheim, Fullerton, Orange, La Habra and Santa Ana.

Roland Upton, Buena Park superintendent of schools, officially welcomed the group to Buena Park. Other speakers included Arthur Corey, assistant superintendent of county schools; Mrs. Florence Holmes, for the Orange County Tuberculosis association, and Mrs. F. H. Greenwood, Tustin, who presented life memberships to Mrs. G. N. Grier, Anaheim; Mrs. Maud Backs, Anaheim, and Mrs. L. L. Williams, Orange.

After All--It's an Old Fashioned County Fair at Pomona

Perhaps the greatest factor in the unparalleled success of the Los Angeles County Fair which continues in the big exposition park in Pomona through Sunday, Sept. 29, lies in the fact that while it has a gorgeous setting there is still all the joy and atmosphere of the old time county fair. Typical of this spirit is the yoke of oxen which have become a familiar sight to thousands of fair visitors as they draw a huge logging cart about the grounds.

FOUR VETERANS FARMS BOUGHT IN THIS COUNTY

"The back-to-the-farm movement is all right, but be sure if you enter it you want to work from sun to sun" a time warning issued today by the Veterans Welfare board after completing a survey into working conditions of 428 veterans who have purchased farms from the board.

Four such farms have been purchased in Orange county by the board, with money provided from past veterans' bond issues. They are deeded to John A. Murdy, Jr., route 1, Huntington Beach; Lee E. Kenyon, 19 acres a mile northeast of Tustin; Fred R. Dukes, five acres a mile southwest of Garden Grove, and John W. Wilcox, on Fairview avenue, north of Costa Mesa.

"Returns from 28 counties so far compiled," Chairman Thomas M. Foley of the board said, "reveal that the veterans who operate farms purchased through this agency work 60 hours a week on an average, and more than 90 percent of them work 12 months in the year."

More than 60 percent of them in addition, he pointed out, are forced to use extra help from which they must take a share of their meager earnings to pay wages. Their principal knowledge of the outside world comes from the newspapers and radio, although farm magazines keep more than 70 percent of them informed as to the latest developments in their line.

More than 90 percent of the farmers in this class take newspapers and more than 35 percent of them own radios.

Harper Goff Is Wedded To Miss Newcombe In Los Angeles

Although art work of Ralph Harper Goff, son of Mrs. Frank Willsey (the former Mrs. Maude Goff) of this city, are so exacting that he permits little time for absences at present from Warner Brothers' studio in Hollywood where he is employed, Santa Ana friends are hoping for an early visit from Mr. Goff and his bride, the former Miss Florence Newcombe.

The marriage of the young couple was announced only recently as an event of Saturday, August 24. It was a very quiet ceremony at which Dr. Dunn, Los Angeles clergyman, officiated at his home in that city. Only members of the two families were aware of the young couple's plans, and none of the relatives was able to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Goff are now living temporarily at 1851 North Argyle street, Hollywood, but expect to be located at a permanent address at an early date. Mr. Goff is the only son of Mrs. Willsey, 206 Pacific street. His bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Newcombe, Canby, Ore., with whom she spent the month preceding her marriage. The young people first met at school of Arts, Los Angeles, which Harper Goff entered after graduating from Santa Ana High school. His bride had graduated from Oregon State university before entering the art school.

A gratifying success in the art world is coming to the talented young Santa Anan, and since his connection with Hollywood studio he has done the art work and designs for stage settings of various successes. The latest of these was "Page Miss Glory," rated as "picture of the month" by motion picture critics.

Today's Puzzle

By Helen Welshimer
I WISH I knew just what it was
That could have made me think
That if you ever went away
The very sun would sink;

THAT leaves would fade to lettuce green,
The dandelion crop
That flourishes its yellow flags
On people's grass would stop.

FOR though you went away last night,
And went away to stay,
To my surprise, my great surprise,
It's been a pleasant day!

TIPS on buying SALT

To test salt for taste Touch the tip of your tongue to ordinary salt... then to Leslie Salt. Notice Leslie hasn't any bitterness, because Leslie is the double-purified salt.

Which kind of salt pours best? The methods by which some salt is made produce flat, flaky grains that so often "pack" and clog salt cellars. Leslie Salt is crystallized by the costly vacuum process into minute free-running cubes, hence Leslie always pours more freely.

Read the weights on the labels Salt cartons are not all the same size. Leslie Salt comes in full 2 pound packages— $\frac{1}{2}$ more salt for your money.

Laboratories have devoted years of research to discover the facts about bran. These tests show that Kellogg's All-Bran is a natural laxative food for normal people.

As a result, All-Bran has been accepted by the American Medical Association Committee on Foods, and approved by Good Housekeeping Institute.

Millions of Americans use All-Bran to correct constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals. For All-Bran supplies generous, mild "bulk," which continues to be effective when used for months. All-Bran also furnishes vitamin B and iron, an element of the blood.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Iced Rice Pudding
1/2 cup rice boiled in 2 cups water, then drained and cooked with 2 cups rich milk, 1 tall can evaporated milk, well chilled.

3 egg yolks beaten with—
1 cup sugar.
1/2 teaspoon vanilla or
1/2 teaspoon maple extract.

Rinse rice after boiling in the water, and continue cooking with the milk until it becomes mushy. At this mushy stage whip the rice with the egg beater until it is a sort of thin sauce or paste. Stir in the egg yolks beaten with sugar; cook 10 minutes, remove from fire and cool. Whip the can of well chilled milk until thick and fluffy, fold it into the rice, add flavoring and turn into the refrigerator freezing pan to chill and freeze just a trifle.

Vary color and flavor by adding a little cocoa to the rice, or chopped maraschino cherries and some of the juice in place of so much sugar. This quantity serves eight. Use sherbet glasses and a spoonful of whipped cream. Keep cans of evaporated milk for whipping in your refrigerator.

METATARSALGIA FREE CLINICS, TOPIC TONIGHT

Richard A. Bradford, foot-comfort expert and proprietor of the Dr. A. Reed Shoe Store in Santa Ana, will discuss the causes of metatarsalgia and their elimination in his brief, informative talk during the "Healthy Feet" broadcast from KREG tonight at 7:45, and he will also give further details of the free clinic held every Thursday.

"There are many conditions that affect the feet and one of the most common and most painful is metatarsalgia," Mr. Bradford said. "This is a painful condition in which the part of the foot formed by the metatarsal bones, the transverse arch, is weakened, lowered and sometimes obliterated."

Two pipe organ selections, two of the greatest favorites of a few years ago: "Love, Your Spell is Everywhere" and "How Am I to Know" will be included in the program as played by Richard Jordan.

The "Healthy Feet" broadcasts are a part of the extension of service by the Dr. A. Reed Shoe Store and are scheduled every Friday at the same hour.

CONGRESSWOMAN OF NEW JERSEY TALKS

The second address in the series on United States Saving bonds being made by prominent women, will be made by the Honorable Mary T. Norton, representative from the 13th District of New Jersey, tonight at 8 o'clock on KREG.

Representative Norton is known as the "Mayor of Washington," as she is in charge of local government in the District of Columbia. She is one of the most interesting speakers of this group to be scheduled.

The United States Navy Band will open the broadcast with the selection "Anchors Aweigh."

cultured—mums, gladioli, tulips, ranunculus, and leucocorynia.

Two bulbs which are often confused are tulips and hyacinths. Tulips are native to the mountains of Southern California as in colder climates. Yet both may be quite hardy in our warm growing climate. In consideration, Late planting is best for these two bulbs as they will not grow as well if planted too early. In our experience, partial shade is preferable to full sun. The tulips and hyacinths planted with tulips and hyacinths is the necessity of making good soil. With the advances, and thus it is essential to keep the soil as good as possible. For planting, deep planting (the depth of the bulb at least 3 inches) is best. Tulips are planted 6 to 8 inches, and 12 inches in light soil, partial shade, and a light fertilizer. Hyacinths are planted in full sun, shade, and a light fertilizer. Do not use barnyard manure unless it is aged in several months. The soil should be a safe fertilizer, but keep it from direct contact with the bulb.

Some of our native small bulbs are coming into increasing favor. The blue eyed hyacinth, with its bear heads of yellow flowers, in shades of blue, purple, lilac, yellow and white. The delicate blue variety of twining habit which has pink flowers. The brodiaea which has a bell shaped flower naturalizing, happens in rough

Two excellent bulbs for warm areas in California, they are beginning to be grown but still comparatively very rare in our gardens, are the Perviana and Paniculatum Martianum, in whose common name you may go from the sublime to the ridiculous. The other "Spider Lily" or "Spider Lily," as you refer, The Perviana and Paniculatum are the white flowers, very fragrant. The attractive foliage remains green most of the year and the bulb may be planted in ground. Like a sunny position and is very easy to grow. The Perviana forms clumps of many stems, with clustered heads of translucent white flowers. These are both good to ramond. Everyone knows, and almost everyone grows these cheerful bulbous flowers, the little spider lilies. The Perviana has a little larger flower. Both are of the easiest culture, and will not only give splashes of gay color in the garden, but are easy for cutting.

A somewhat similar bulb, called the "Faint Fuchsia," is Tristitia

The plant against the greenness of ferns and moss. Elevation is considered in California, and is larger than the Nivalls which is the largest. Eastern Nivalls are larger than other bulbous flower of the genus is Zephyranthes, with the delicate and common than the Nivalls. Lily. These come in white or pink, according to variety, have a long, narrow foliage and a long, slender, bell-shaped, blooming season.

These flowers are one of the earliest of spring flowers in Eastern climate. I never think of the coming of spring without remembering an Eastern

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Stock market traders, frightened over war possibilities, dumped stocks today and drove prices down 1 to more than 5 points before resistance developed. Order was restored before the close and some of the losses were regained with dealings lightening.

Selling was heaviest early in the second hour. Offerings developed such velocity that tickers were as much as 5 minutes behind. Blocks of 1,000 to 14,000 shares were thrown overboard. Selling spread to all sections, including the so-called war babies. However, the latter were the first to rally.

Near the close Electric Boat (submarine) shot up more than a point to a new high for the year above 100. The stock had been driven down to 123 1/2, off 5 1/2 points, recovered 4 points of the decline. Aviation issues picked up near the close some of them making net gains. Steels recovered slightly from their lows which represented losses ranging to more than 2 points.

Coppers were firm on the heavy demand at rising prices of export copper, which reached 8.75 cents a pound, a new high since July 21, 1933. Anaconda, among the most active in the market, gained fractionally. Kennecott recovered loss of nearly a point and was steady at the previous close.

Railroad issues lost ground despite a rise in car loadings above the 700-million mark for the first time since last week of October, 1931. They, too, recovered and Union Pacific late in the day gained 1 1/2 points, while Southern Pacific, New York Central and Atchafalpa were down a point or more.

Chemical issues moved erratically. Monsanto Chemical touched 75 1/2, off 3 1/2 points before meeting support. Air Reduction at one time was off more than 3 points. Allied Chemical was higher in the morning but it dropped and ended the day with a small gain of one point.

United States governments were freely offered at declines up to 3 1/2 points. The entire foreign list was unsettled, with German, Belgian, French, Polish and Italian issues down fractions to more than 2 points.

Domestic rails gave around freely up to three points. Although car loadings were up to expectations at 700 million in 4 years, it was felt that this pace would not be maintained as much of it was accounted for in 1933—largely because they stimulated by strike fears.

Utilities dropped again. International Telephone issues lost 2 points or more each. Eubaker 7s, American Rolling Mill 4 1/2 and the amusement issues were among the most spotted in the industrial list. International Mercantile Marine 6s moved against the trend, rallying 1 1/2.

LET'S COMPLETE THE JOB FOR THE CHILDREN

One week from today the voters of the Santa Ana High School district will vote on the question of additional bonds upon the district, to the extent of $180,000, to build an auditorium at the Julia Lathrop Junior High school and two additional buildings at the site of the high school, which would take care of the pupils now in sections of the building, which has been more or less injured during the quake.

The Register is unequivocally for these bonds, in order that the whole program may be completed at this time, so that as far as the high school and grammar grades are concerned, Santa Ana is thoroughly provided for, in these respects, for future days.

We look upon our schools a great deal the way we look upon our homes. On the question of water, where we get it, and how much we pay for it, we are engaging in a discussion of a business proposition. But no man considers his home from the standpoint of profit, or he should not do so.

He may have an additional room in his home for comfort or recreation, that he could possibly get along without, but he finds in later years, in its effect upon the growing children, that in one sense it was the most profitable investment he had made.

We often hear it said that "it is cheaper to pay rent than to own a home." Yes, it may be so, if the object of the home-owner is to make money out of where his family resides. But the man who has the proper conception of the home, of the nature of family life and its office in our civilization, is not talking about the thing he can make the most money out of in relation to his home.

There was a time when the instruction of the children was given in the home. In a sense, it is part of the home life of a child. That work which was formerly done perhaps by the parents, by the clergymen or by the itinerant teacher, is now taken by us and placed more economically, for purposes of efficiency, in the schools.

Just as we are anxious for the best that we can have in our homes, we should have the best that we can possibly afford in the schools. We should have the best equipment possible and the best teachers, for it is during this period, when youth is impressionable, that character, purposes, and ambitions are initiated and formulated and to some extent become set.

We should continue and complete our program on the basis on which it is now so near completion. It is no time to discuss what might have been or the mistakes of the past. We regret that some people are suggesting, as an argument for these new buildings, that the rooms in which our children are located, are unsafe. We cannot believe that these statements are advanced in good faith. For if there be danger in those rooms for our children, there is only one thing the school board should do and that is take the children at once from these rooms, and, if necessary, put them in tents.

For a member of the school board to declare that a room is unsafe, and then continue to keep our children in it, indicates that he is insincere in his statement or is so inconsiderate of the welfare of our children, that he is unfit to be a member of the school board.

For this reason, we cannot believe, in the opinion of the members of the school board, that they are permitting children in unsafe rooms.

We would not urge the voting of these bonds for any such reason, because, if we believed that way, we would join in with the parents of our district to insist that our children be protected from them.

But the amount that is required to complete these buildings in up-to-date fashion, so that they will last during many years to come and that there will be no question concerning their safety, providing plans and specifications are followed, with any quake equal to or greater than any we have had, is so small that it would be a shame not to make such provision now.

The federal government furnishes almost as much money as we will toward this end.

Let us complete the job while we are about it. It is an investment in the young people that may not return us money and probably will not, but will return us men and women of the future who will be worthy of the devotion, the sacrifice and the attention which we are giving them now.

BETTER TIMES

The American Federation of Labor has prepared a survey and forecast of business which adds another voice to the growing chorus that "Better Times are Here Again."

The evidence submitted by the survey, to back up its contentions, is as follows:

"The New York Times Index of industrial activity up from 80 to 88 per cent in a seven-week period."

"August dividend payments higher than last year by four per cent."

"Orders for farm machinery 75 per cent larger than last year."

"Automobile production is 43 per cent larger than last year."

"Machine tool orders are 47 per cent above last year."

"A relative shortage of goods exists in the hands of most retailers."

But while there is evidence that better times are at hand for business, there is little evidence that happier times are here for people who work.

Unemployment is still estimated to be at 11,000,000, including about 4,000,000 dependent on the government for relief or working at "made work jobs."

But the purchasing power, first distributed to the unemployed, is gradually finding its way from one line of business to another, according to the survey.

A dollar spent for consumptive goods immediately makes for more active retail business, then for more manufacturing activity, and finally for greater activity in the heavy goods industries which supply manufacturing equipment.

Many critics of the "made work program" have contended that the assistance should have been given directly to the "heavy industries."

Now it would seem that the stimulus has finally reached that part of the industrial system in a round-about manner, and more jobs should develop.

But the great problem of finding jobs for 11,000,000 unemployed still remains to be solved—who will do it and how will it be done is still the question.

THE CONSEQUENCE OF THE
INSISTENCE OF MUSSOLINI

Daily the world seems to be edging toward unavoidable conflict.

It is unavoidable because of the insistence of a Fascist dictator. To be sure, it may be urged, as Bertrand Russell does urge in this morning's dispatches, that Ethiopia is not worth going to war over, and that, to save the "other occupants of the sleigh," Ethiopia should be "thrown to the wolves."

But it is strange that, clear-headed and keen thinker though he is, he really doesn't see it isn't the question of Ethiopia, it is a bigger question than that and it is the League of Nations. The nations, which embrace the League, realize they have reached their testing time.

There has been a call for a "show-down" and if it had not come and the nations had not agreed, Great Britain would have at once withdrawn from the League and its end would have come.

In spite of all the portents, it doesn't seem possible that the dictator of Italy is so mad as to run amuck against all the nations, but, on the other hand, there seems to be no way out and that's the terrible thing about a dictatorship.

Mussolini's interest, undoubtedly, is primarily in himself. He may see now that if he goes on, he is done. But he knows full well, from the inside of his nation, financial conditions and all, that if he doesn't go on, he is done.

Well, possibly this is the way progress is to be made. Dictatorships and despotisms insure their own undoing.

It is to be fondly hoped that, not by the destruction of life and property, but by closing avenues of transportation and the slow and steady siege, the work must be done.

Let's Find Out How Nebraska Does It

San Bernardino Sun

There are to be hearings in October at Sacramento on proposed new taxes to raise more money for state expenses. Presumably there will be a special session of the legislature early next year to consider legislation to put new taxes in effect.

Instead of hearings at Sacramento on new taxes we would humbly suggest to the legislative committee and administrative officials that they leave forthwith for Nebraska to study the financial methods of that state.

The story of how Nebraska has kept out of debt, protected its industries, agriculture and taxpayers in general, is described by W. E. Christensen in an article in the New York Herald Tribune. He says:

Nebraska has a new $10,000,000 capitol—without a penny of debt standing against it. Nebraska has a splendid highway system—without a single outstanding bond.

Nebraska's state tax, which provides the funds for supporting the state university, four normal schools and all other state activities, has averaged less than two mills per year during the last 10 years.

Nebraska has no state income tax, no sales tax, no nuisance taxes. The state hasn't one cent of bonded indebtedness. Total bonded debt of its 92 counties, in July, 1934, was but $6,247,000—of which a single county, Douglas, accounted for $4,500,000, leaving the small sum of $1,747,000 apportioned among the 92 remaining county governments.

How does Nebraska do it? The people of California should be vitally interested in how Nebraska can keep up the efficiency of state government without placing burdens upon the backs of the people.

Too much money is spent for government in California. The legislators complain, with a measure of justification, that the constitution is full of guarantees of state activities that make up the great bulk of the expenditures. The people, however, either do not accept that alibi or they are ready to take the constitution to pieces and return to the legislature the power to reduce expenditures. It is apparent on every hand that the taxpayers of California—and since the day of sales tax and income tax that includes every resident—demand action on curtailment of expenses rather than expenditures to find something else to tax.

And beware of the five-county plan to reduce state expense! The big jump in local expenditures this year is in the metropolitan centers, particularly Los Angeles and San Francisco, which would control the financial affairs of the enlarged counties. The county consolidation plan will be offered as the cure for the situation. The rural districts of the state would merely take over the new task of financing the great political patronage ideas of the big cities.

Swingback To Democracy

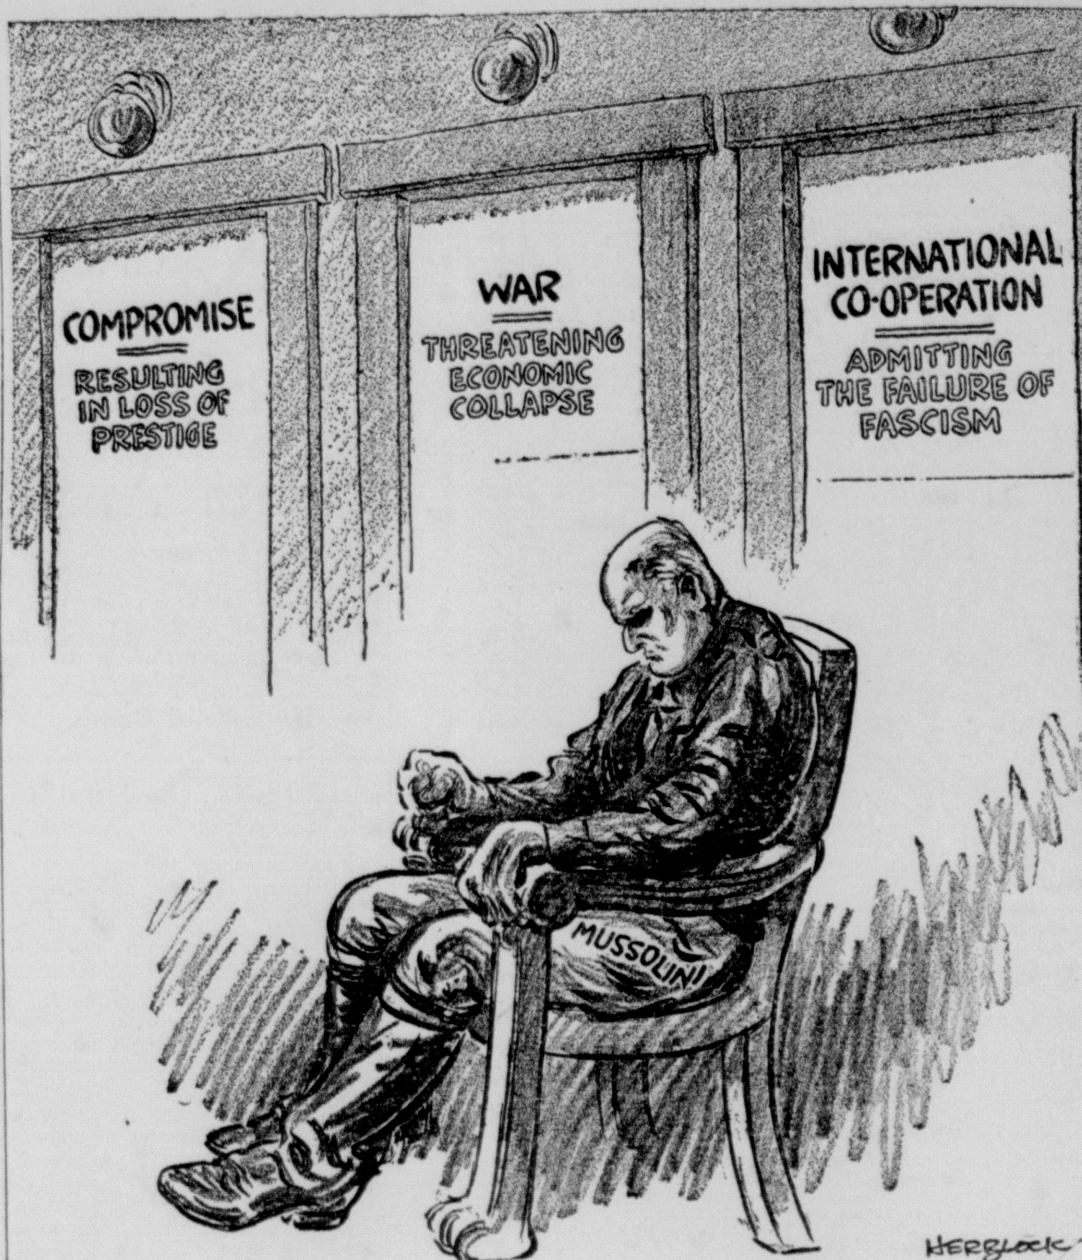

San Francisco Chronicle

There is a pronounced swingback to democracy and democratic institutions, in the opinion of Sir Herbert Samuel, English Liberal. This reaction, he finds, has become most pronounced within the last year. A year ago he heard talk of dictatorship on all sides. There was a feeling that the strong man was needed to pull countries out of the dumps. Now the great man notion is pretty much deflated.

How did this come about? Simply, according to Sir Samuel, by watching the performance of the supermen. They haven't made good. Their countries are not as well along toward recovery as the democratic nations, and their people are without freedom of action and, in some instances, without freedom of thought or conscience.

It used to be said that democracy's inefficiency was only compensated by the fact that nobody could think of any better form of government, all things considered. But now democratic countries are showing that even on the score of practical affairs they are ahead of the dictatorships. Can it be that in the multitude of counsel there is wisdom as well as safety?

LO! THE POOR INDIAN

(Who, according to antiquarians, used cherry pits for dice thousands of years ago.)

Long, long before Pharaoh's era,
When the race was exceedingly young,
When the Latin and Greek
Played hide and go seek
And conversed in a curious tongue,
Ere Demosthenes spouted orations
In limpid and soul stirring tones,—
Which was ages ago.
As you probably know—
The red men were rolling the bones.

They spoke in a different language
Than the one we are using today,
But with hearts and with souls
They waged their wars
And gambled their wampum away.
Little Joe and Big Dick were unheard of,
Cherry stones were the prevalent stake
As they sat at their ease
In their deerskin tepees
And rattled old shake after shake.

We just about Lo the poor Indian;
But there must have been some of his crowd,
Who mastered the game
And won money and fame,
Waxing clever the while they grow proud.
I once threw a round with a red man,
A brave that was worthless and sad,
He was gentle and mild
As a sweet little child,
And he won every cent that I had.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

THE DEFENCE OF FREEDOM

The convinced defenders of freedom, in the present phase of political centralization the world over, must do something more than sing the praises of liberty.

A widespread cynical distrust of politics, especially among the young, is one of the major marks of the time. Youth lacks historic background. The young men and young women just entering their voting years have never known a world that was not in incredible confusion. And in this phase of confusion they have seen democracies dawdle while dictators have gone to bat with precision and momentary efficiency. No wonder youth is flirting with new and strange doctrines that leave liberty out of their reckoning.

These of the somewhat older generations who feel deeply about the defense of freedom must make their defense an attack.

The real friends of freedom are not standpatters. They are those who can and will put together a positive program that will stir the enthusiasm of that very large body of liberally minded Americans who are not afraid of responsible change but who do not want blindly to leap into policies over which all history throws doubt.

Essential liberty is to be preserved in the American scheme, either some new party or one of the old parties must come to the fore with a program which has weeded out those nineteenth century doctrines that have become obsolete, which holds firmly to the essence of the liberal tradition and deals with current problems of politics and economics in an objectively scientific manner.

The friends of freedom must scorn the use of force and of unscrupulous propaganda.

They must combine a ready willingness to revise democratic procedures in the interest of efficiency with an uncompromising adherence to the essence of democracy in the interest of liberty.

Youth can be won by this; it cannot be won by any mere laudation of liberty in the abstract.

ACTIVE LIVING

Life is action. Only the sleeping and the dead are still. Nature has ordained that every thought that crosses the threshold of the mind shall be expressed in action, or a penalty paid. That penalty is extermination.

"Work out your salvation or die," is the law. If you have an idea, do something about it. If you have a wish, work it out. Keep moving or pass out.

Little children are born active. A two-year-old child can tire a household of adults in half a day. This constant activity wearies older people and they keep saying "Hush! Be still! Stop that! Go out if you must make that noise. Can't you ever be still?" After a few years of this a child begins to believe that the right way to live is the still way. If he is still he will be called good and that is highly desirable.

There is a happy medium here as everywhere. Unless, pointless activity is a waste. Slumber in the noonday of life is the end of all hope. Somewhere between, there is safety, promise and success. It is the business of teachers and parents to find that place where waste leaves off and growth through activity begins.

Teach little children to do some worth while thing in the house every day at a fixed time. That teaches responsibility and the need for service. Teach the older ones to work out their plans, hopes and wishes, and so test the value of the ideas and their own powers at the same time.

When a boy says, "I wish I had a wagon; I could haul the groceries instead of carrying them," don't rush to buy him one. Tell him that you think it a good idea and ask what he is going to do about it. Give him the idea, right at the start, that he is the one to do something about his own wants and his own schemes. If he learns that all he has to do is wish out loud and you bring the answer like a genie of the lamp, why should he act in the matter? Yet action is his salvation. Self-help is the road to self-development and success.

One day Carl, an indolent child who never waited upon himself if he could help it, complained that the man in the sweet shop was selling chocolate bars that had been cut for the full price. Carl liked his chocolate. "Well, what do you expect me to do about it?" said his teacher, unfeelingly. Carl told me about it. "Too bad," said I, "what are you going to do about it?"

"I thought I'd tell you," said he. "Well, you did," said I, "but he will keep on selling you cut chocolate bars just the same, won't he?" Then he tried the yard teacher who said, "I've got plenty to bother me without your troubles. Attend to them yourself, why don't you?"

After a few days of futile grunting Carl called a meeting of chocolate bar lovers, told them what he thought and felt and suffered. They formed a committee and made Carl the head. He had to go to the shop and make the man understand that he would sell no more chocolate bars to them unless they got full measure. I never saw a boy struggle so to avoid action in his own behalf, but he managed it. Once having caught the idea, he worked on it and gradually got into his stride.

Self-activity is the law of growth. Nobody can grow for anybody else. Either one grows in activity or one passes out in silence and oblivion. Keep the children going forward, helping themselves, helping each other, growing alive and happy.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)
